Collum Family Moves to New Home in South City

The Collum family of South San Francisco Monday moved into their home on July 15.

That was the deadline set to evict, if necessary, Mrs. Jacqueline Collum and her three young children who are afflicted with rare Batten's Disease from their home at 13 Bradford Drive.

The new home is at 131 Adrian Avenue, in South San Francisco's Winston Manor area. It is a three-bedroom split-level with a carpeted living room.

Three specific factors contributed to make the relocation possible.

Bob Hagen of the County Housing Authority made a special plea to his superiors, the Department of Housing and Urban Development for a waiver that will allow a higher rent limit. It previously had been limited to $185 a month for a three-bedroom home. The waiver moves that up to $225 a month.

Then there's Realtor Mrs. Barbara Kohn of Associated Realty Company in South San Francisco who, according to Hages, took a cut in the rent "to work this thing out." The realty firm also is having the living room carpeted.

But most of all, success in finding a new home has to be attributed to Mrs. Collum's faith that things would work out.

At the time she was notified she would be evicted if she did not move, she said:

"I know everything will come out all right."

It is a belief that has been reiterated time and again in a continuing fight to keep her dying family under one roof, while a cure is found.

The first Collum child to die of the mysterious Batten's Disease was Patty, last September at age 13. K.C. (short for Katherine Collum) is already blind, one of the first signs of the non-contagious fatal disease.

Chuck, 8, also is blind, leaving seven-year-old Chris, who is starting to lose sight, as mother's helper.

The family initially was to be moved out of the Bradford Drive home by June 1, but got an extension from owner Harry Lynds of Oakland.

Now, with a new home, Mrs. Collum said she will continue her efforts to find a cure for Batten's Disease.

Dr. Mary Allen of Richmond, Va., a nutritionist and biochemist, has agreed to come to California and treat the children to determine what each child's cellular level is and what vitamins, if any, are missing.

The treatment will require four weeks of hospitalization, during which Mrs. Collum's faith, as it always has, will continue to work overtime.

S.S.F. Firm Installs Treatment Plant

South San Francisco councilmen last night entered into a contract with the Reichhold Chemical Company, 120 South Linden Avenue, calling for Reichhold to construct a pretreatment sewage plant.

The agreement, under which Reichhold will furnish a $76,989 surety bond as security for payment of sewer rental charges, is designed to improve the quality of waste discharged by Reichhold to the city's sewer plant.

South San Francisco ordinances regulating sewer rental fees of industrial users require that Reichhold next year would pay $101,980 approximately 10 times the amount paid the previous year.

As of last year, when Reichhold was ordered by the state to stop discharging its chemical waste into the city's storm drain, it began discharging into the city's public sewer system. The amount has become excessive for the city's system to handle.

Assistant City Attorney John Shaw said that once Reichhold establishes its own pretreatment plant there would be a subsequent easing on sewage flow through the city's facility.

In addition, a cost savings in the operating procedures of the city's plant is anticipated, and the new plant is expected to be a step against a pollution problem before it actually happens.

Under the contract, Reichhold agrees that it will design, let bids, and construct a pretreatment plant by December 31, of this year. The design of the plant is subject to review by the city.

The $76,989 surety bond will be used as payment of any additional sewer rental charges for each day Reichhold fails to meet effluent standards should the new plant not come to fruition.

Reichhold, through its new plant, is expected to reduce biological oxygen demand, water consumption and suspended solids to a combined level below that which produces a fee equal to $25,000 according to city ordinances, or pay any additional difference at a later date based on later tests.

The city agrees to assess a sewer rental fee in the amount of $25,000 for the fiscal year 1972-73. In subsequent years, the sewer rental fee will be determined according to the city's ordinance.

For a reasonable period of time upon a showing of good cause, the city will extend the date of completion of the new plant beyond December 31. But Reichhold must submit a request for an extension in writing 20 days prior to December 31.

$1.8 Million Project

JESD Plan Proceeds

By FRANK LaPIERRE

In the face of a declining student population and higher construction costs, the Jefferson Elementary Schol District's Board of Trustees has moved closer to building another school as a possible cost to taxpayers of $1.8 million.

The 17-acre school site is in the St. Francis Heights sector of Daly City. Construction has been pending for several years — since filling and grading of the area was completed in 1965.

Supt. Frank L. Greenwood told the board that school bonds totaling $1.8 million have been sold and with some modification of plans the facility could be built within that monetary limit.

The public approved the sale of the bonds some five years ago.

Trustees Edward Tomasello, Al Collett and James Cranna voted last week to commence with a new study of the school.

Trustees Beverly Forrester and Dorothy Adams voted against the new school.

Asked why they cast dissenting votes for construction studies, the women trustees replied that declining student enrollment trends and the site location did not justify the school in that part of the city.

They also pointed out that spending the bond issue for construction of the school would cost local taxpayers in the neighborhood of 14 cents per $100 of assessed valuation on the tax rate.

Trend predictions are that the low student enrollment will last in Daly City until 1984.

The $1.8 million bond issue was sold about two years ago to the Bank of America. Interest paid to the BOA is 5 per cent — the ceiling authorized by voters in the election. The bond money is now invested and is realizing between 4.5 and 5.08 per cent interest.

"Taxpayers are actually realizing a small profit," Mrs. Adams said.

Once the bonds are spent for construction the taxpayers will be required to add the cost to the tax rate.

The JESD already owes the state between $7,-$8 million in back bond monies. The district, however, no longer qualifies for the state aid building program because of the low ADA (average daily attendance rate for students) and must come up with all funds for financing any new school project.

In fact, using state guidelines, the JESD has sufficient school classrooms for its children.

The state, under its school building program, allows t square feet of construction per school child in the K 6 grades and 75 square feet per child in the seventh and eighth grades. As long as this figure is not exceeded the state will help finance.

As of June 16, 1972 the district had a student population—ADA—of 9,302.

Of this figure there were 953 children enrolled in kindergarten classes. The total classrooms in the JESD, including portables now scattered throughout several school sites, is 339.

Kindergarten classrooms are used twice each day and there are 23 such classrooms.

Some two dozen classrooms throughout the district are now vacant.

The loacation of the so-called "Savage seventh and eighth grade school" is all wrong, according to Trustee Adams.

When it was selected there was a growing population in the area and no close-in commercial enterprises.

Now, however, the site is

Fiery Crash Kills Boys' Club Worker

A Daly City youth was killed in a fiery accident Friday night in Mendocino County when the vehicle he was driving overturned on an embankment.

According to the report from local officials, Michael J. Quigley, 22, 209 Los Banos Avenue, burned to death when gasoline ignited and engulfed his Jeep-like auto in flames. The accident occurred on Highway 20.

Two passengers in the car - William Blachton, 23, Wood River, Ill., and Jeffrey Pagan, 22, Daly City — tried to rescue Quigley but could not.

Blachton was admitted to Howard Memorial Hospital, Willits, with severe burns of the arm and back. His condition was said to be fair this morning by a hospital spokesman. He was in the facility's intensive care unit.

Pagan was treated for minor injuries Friday and released.

Quigley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Quigley, was a summer worker at a San Francisco Boys' Club camp in the Mendocino-Willits area.

A graduate of Jefferson High School, Daly City, he had attended Skyline College, San Bruno.

Ryan Suggests Plan to Stop Air Piracy Wave

"Sky pirates must be stopped but not at the cost of innocent passengers' lives," Assemblyman Leo Ryan said today.

Ryan, whose district includes the San Francisco International Airport, where two PSA jets were hijacked in two days and FBI agents had a bloody gun duel resulting in the death of two would-be hijackers and a passenger said, "These tragic events have again emphasized the need for immediate action on the federal level."

Ryan said that he was drafting an Assembly Resolution to urge the United States Senate to take action on several bills pending that would cut off air service to countries that protect hijackers. Ryan's resolution also requests that the Civil Aeronautics Board fulfill its promise to provide metal detectors and additional security staff.

Ryan noted that the Civil Aeronautics Board had recently promised security improvements but had later rescinded the proposal.

"The slight inconvenience air passengers would suffer by additional security, certainly cannot compare with the cost of even one human life," Ryan said.

Ryan said that he had discussed the problem with spokesmen for the Airline Pilots Association and also urged the airlines to comply with a Federal Aviation Administration directive to re-wire the rear doors on 727s which have been used most recently by the ransom seeking hijackers.

"It is my understanding that the rear doors can be sealed so that they will not open while the plane is in the air. The companies must move with all possible speed to make the necessary conversion," Ryan said.

In a letter to Senator Dennis Carpenter (R-Orange County), chairman of a select Senate committee on hijacking, Ryan pledged full cooperation and support of their efforts.

S.S.F. Youth Is Arrested

A 20-year-old South San Francisco youth was arrested Monday at his room in the Industrial Hotel, 505 Cypress Avenue, on a warrent charging him with robbery of the Rollingwood 7-Eleven store, committed on April 27.

At that holdup, some $200 was taken by two men. The second is still not apprehended, according to San Bruno police.

Joseph D. Boyle, 20, is due to be arraigned on the robbery charge in Municipal Court in South San Francisco this morning.

Critic Asks Pacifica for Open Hearing

Ray Karcewski, the former Pacifica police sergeant who has become a thorn in the side of city officials, last week said he wanted a public airing of the answers to his charges against the police department.

"I can't compete as one individual against the city," said Karczewski after Mayor Grace McCarthy suggested a personnel session to discuss the charges.

"I must have an open investigative meeting," said Karczewski. "Behind closed doors, I'm going to lose."

Karczewski, who at the last meeting submitted an eight-page list of charges against the police department, asked that an investigative body be appointed.

He said it was "ludicrous" to have the police investigate themselves when the council said they were waiting for Police Chief Mel Nelson to return from vacation so the charges could be reviewed and answered.

Councilman Aubrey Lumley responded that "as a councilman I can't possibly weigh the facts until I hear from the department that is accused."

Karczewski said it was "difficult to comprehend" responses attributed to Chief Nelson and Capt. Ray Shipley in the press to the effect that Karczewski's charges are unfounded and groundless "before the investigation begins," especially in view of the fact the police department had been suggested to investigate itself.

"The charges are for the council's consideration," said Karczewski, who also alluded to the fact that a "suspicious and mysterious" arson of police rec-

$70,000 Boat Fire Injures Two Men

Two men received first and second-degree burns on their arms and faces Wednesday as a boat valued at $70,000 was destroyed by fire at the South San Francisco Oyster Point Marina.

Henry Mather, 45, and Richard Sala, 22, employes of Thorstenson Thor Marine Service, 251 California Drive, Burlingame, were treated at Peninsula Hospital and released.

The two men were replacing the carburetor on the 45-foot boat. Mather, back at work yesterday, said he had no idea what caused the explosion.

"It must have been some fumes or some gas in the oil pan. We had all the hatches open and had the engine running for about seven to ten minutes before the explosion," said Mather.

Immediately after the explosion, Harbormaster Merwin "Swede" Hansen, seeing the craft fully engulfed in flames, commandeered a nearby boat and towed the burning craft to the east side of the harbor where it was beached.

Firemen said it took an hour to extinguish the blaze. The entire cleanup operation took about three hours.

While Hansen was towing the burning boat away from its mooring at F Dock four other boats sustained damage that was termed "negligible."

The dock where the boat was moored houses the fuel supply facility. In addition, a boat on one side of the burning vessel held 270 gallons of gas in its tank and the tanks of a boat on the other side contained more than 400 gallons of fuel, according to officials.

SSF Awards Plan

Lighting Program

An award program for exterior lighting esthetics has been established by the South San Francisco Beautification Committee, according to Patrick Ahern, chairman and City Council member.

"The main benefits that the City of South San Francisco will derive from this awards program are public convenience and safety, and the sense of from the city's improved appearance," Ahern said. "I hope pearance." Ahern said. "I hipe that one day South San Francisco will become known as the most attractive, best illuminated community in Northern California."

The awards will be based on security, beauty and identification of buildings or facilities.

The new program includes categories for industrial plants, businesses and stores, church building and grounds, governmental projects and facilities such as bridges and streets and residential developments and individual homes.

A subcommittee will make recommendations to the Beautification Committee for the awards program. The subcommittee welcomes suggestions and nominations from interested citizens.

Committee members discussed programs of this type which have been popular for Christmas lighting. Women's clubs and realtors are active in "Light the Night" campaigns to cut crime and reduce accidents by means of improved street lighting. This program to encourage esthetics of exterior lighting is the first continuing effort of its kind by citizens in the region and possibly in the nation, the committee believes.

Ousted S.S.F. Aide Accuses City Council

Tom Moore on Monday lashed out at South San Francisco councilmen, accusing them of severing his employment with the knowledge he had no unemployment or disability insurance to protect him in case of emergency.

"If I had a heart attack tonight, I would have absolutely no protection for my family," said Moore, his face flushed with anger.

Moore is one of the six engineering department employes laid off with the recent reorganization that had the independent consultant firm VTN Bay Area Inc., replace the city's engineering department and become the Department of Ecological Development.

Like the others who were dismissed, Moore was promised a "valid offer" with VTN. However, Moore declined the offer. Last night he told Mayor Protem Warren Steinkamp, who was filling in for absent Mayor Frank Mammini, that "the city established the validity of the offer, not us."

Moore, who sought to ask each councilman if he was aware that the layoff meant the employes would be without unemployment and disability insurance, was cut short by Steinkamp.

"The action taken by this council was unanimous," said Steinkamp. "You may refer your questions to the city attorney."

Steinkamp also noted that the vote was taken with the knowledge that each man had a job with VTN if he wanted it.

This apparently perturbed Moore. He responded that Steinkamp, as a civil servant (working with the federal government at Hunter's Point) "ougnt to know better."

"The rest may have an excuse," Moore said. "But you don't."

Councilman Gordon T. Boblitt had told Moore that he was aware of the situation when he cast his vote.

However, Councilman Patrick Ahern, who told Steinkamp that "I'd like to answer for myself," said to Moore that he didn't think the council went into it "that deep."

Ahern then added that he figured the employe retirement system would be able to fulfill any immediate need of the dismissed employes.

Assistant City Attorney John Shaw noted that the council took a lot of facts under scrutiny.

"In that decision was a conflict that placed the engineers in a difficult position. We need to recognize that inherent conflict," said Shaw.

Bruno Mtn. Grass Fire

A grass fire apparently started by children playing with matches last Saturday, swept over 115 acres on San Bruno mountain, firemen from the State Division of Forestry reported today.

Firemen said it took a dozen firemen manning three trucks an hour to control the fire. No homes were threatened, however.

The fire was located in the southeastern part of the mountain. South San Francisco firemen stood by near the South San Francisco 4-H Club, although its facilities were not in danger.

According to firemen, it was the thirtieth fire on the mountain this year, while during all of last year there were only 33 fires.

hemmed in on three sides by several big convalescent homes and hospitals, a medical building and shopping center.

What concerns many people is that noise generated by growing children will have a marked detrimental effect on the nearby convalescent homes and hospitals.

What is even worse is the health factor.

Above and behind the school is the Cabrillo Freeway.

Air pollution from exhaust and deadly asbestos brake linings filters down on the area adjacent to what will perhaps one day be the school recreational area.

"The asbestos particles settle from the highway down onto the children," Mrs. Adams says. "This very much concerns me."

To bring the school up to strength children will have to be bused in. As long as they are riding a bus why not take them in another direction to a more suitable location? Mrs. Adams asked.

Growth will likely be in the north-east sector of the city — the redevelopment area.

"This is where the school rooms are needed. This is where the schools are old, small, and where the child population will be experienced," Mrs. Adams said.

City Atty. John Sherman said the arson was done by juveniles, and that if Karczewski has other information he should contact the district attorney.

Karczewski had no objection to a delay when promised by Councilman Harlan Minshew that the response will be handled as soon as possible, "not six months from now."

Minshew said waiting for the chief was "a matter of courtesy and protocol."

Bruno Planners Okay Variances

San Bruno city planners Monday night excused Lincoln Properties 164 parking spaces for Phase IV of San Bruno's second "The Place" on Sneath Lane, largest apartment complex — planners acted upon advice of Planning Consultant Larry Wise that granting such variances in an RM (garden apartment) zone was not to be regarded the same as granting variances in normally zoned sites. The ordinance, he explained, gives the planners wide latitude in trading such concession for certain amenities the builder may provide.

The action reduces the required number of parking spaces from 656 to 491.

The commission likewise granted the request of Dan McLarry, representing Lincoln, for a 5 per cent reduction in width of the required parking places, from 10 to 9½ feet. He said these moves would save the firm $175,000 which he would use for improved landscaping.

The variances were approved by a tie-breaking vote, however. Leading the attack on the 328-unit development was Leon Miller.

"I think that the plan violates its original concept. In the beginning the site was to be as natural as possible. McLarry admits that virtually all of the natural foliage will be removed."

He was supported by commissioners Bill Cox and Earl B. Phillips. After a motion to approve the variances was stymied by a 3-3 vote, Chairman Girvin Whitney gave it the commission's recommendation by a "yes" vote.

Miller also wondered aloud what the commissioners were getting for their concession.

The variance was granted subject to approval of fire roads and access, submission to the planners of landscaping, and installation of hydrants and fire roads before building starts.

Phase IV will bring the projected miniature city to 872 units, ranging from studio apartments to two-bedroom, two-bathrooms. Only Phase I is completed. Phase II is under construction. Phase III is due to start in August, and Phase IV, the biggest of all, will begin in February.

SRI Has Pill for Males

Scientists at Stanford Research Institute (SRI) have synthesized and patented a compound that renders male animals infertile for several weeks after ingestion, but leaves them unchanged in other ways except for an occasional slight weight loss.

The compound works by blocking the development of immature sperm. The male remains fertile for three or four days after the compound is applied, until the mature sperm are no longer viable. Then the animal becomes infertile and remains so until new sperm have had time to develop from the initial stages of the spermatogenic cycle to full maturity. In a mouse, this cycle takes about 50 days to complete. In a human being it takes about 90 days.

The compound appears to have no harmful side effects. In experiments with more than 100 male mice over a 3-year period, no ill effects were discovered with the effective dosage. The mice that received the compound were as healthy as control subjects that did not receive it.

Both groups copulated with females during a 50-day period following ingestion, but only the controls produced offspring as a result. After 50 days, the test subjects recovered their fertility. Successful results were obtained both by injection and by oral administration.

The compound or its derivatives could possibly be developed for human use, but its most immediate application appears to be in the control of animal populations, particularly rodents and other pests.

Pest eradication programs using poison alone usually leave enough animals surviving to restore the population quickly to its former level. By using this compound in conjunction with the poison, this period could be greatly extended. It could also be used independently to control pest populations.

The research was conducted by Dr. W. A. Skinner, executive director of SRI's Life Sciences Division, and Homer H. Tong, a bio-organic chemist in that division. SRI funded the project, but now that feasibility has been established the institute is prepared to sell the patent and conduct further research for specific applications under outside sponsorship.

To clear the compound for use in control of animal populations will take about two more years.

Belly Dance At County Fair Show

Although Rosemary Clooney, Jo Ann Castle, and the Marquis Chimps are the headliners at this year's 38th annual San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta, fairgoers will also be entertained by a variety of other performers throughout the Fair's 13-day run — July 31 through Aug. 12.

This entertainment ranges from the exotic art of belly dancing to the "Lost Sound" of Tom Scribner and his musical saw.

The belly dancing will be provided by Delilah who will perform her Mideastern specialty in the Fiesta Bowl at 8 p.m. on Aug. 8. Scribner and his unusual instrument will make two appearances at the Fair — Aug. 3 and 8. Both performances will be at 2:30 p.m. in the Fountain Plaza.

The Fair will also present several entertainers who will perform almost continuously throughout the Floral Fiesta. Frank and Eve Dupont's Royal Marionettes, a collection of three-foot high puppets that sing, dance and play musical instruments, will present three shows daily — at 2:30, 4:30 and 7:30 p.m. The Duponts and their wooden troupes have appeared on the Ed Sullivan Show, the Hollywood Palace and the Mike Douglas Show in addition to their many live performances throughout the world.

Youngsters at the Fair will enjoy Rags the Clown's "Kids' Show" in the Mall Area each day at 1 and 6 p.m. Rags will perform magic tricks, conduct contests and pass out balloons shaped like animals.

For fairgoers who like to keep on the move in order to see all the exhibits, the Fair will provide a variety of strolling entertainers. Among these are the Johnny Vaughn Trio, the Stiltman and organ grinder Pat Pietro.

Vaughn's Trio and the Stiltman will often be seen together with Johnny's group providing the music while the Stiltman provides lollipops for the children.

Pat Pietro will provide a nostalgic touch as he and his trained monkey wander throughout the fairgrounds dispensing fun and music.

All of this gets underway with the Fair's annual opening day ceremonies at 6 p.m. July 31.

Hearing Set On Center

Members of the San Bruno Planning Commission Monday night set August 7 as a date for a public hearing on the Bay Hill Shopping Center whose proposed site is on San Bruno Avenue between Cherry and Junipero Serra Freeway.

The planners have already voted it down, and the council followed with a vote supporting the planners. Chief complaints were that builder L. W. Douglas was overbuilding the site, and that he was engaged in spot zoning.

Patrol Seeks Witnesses of 101 Accident

A man who was fatally injured Saturday morning when his car rolled over on Bayshore Freeway near the Millbrae overpass was identified today by the coroner's office as Phillip N. James, 31, of Santa Clara.

Highway Patrolman John E. Dowd said James' car inexplicably rolled over several times. James was taken to Peninsula Hospital where he died of head injuries.

The highway patrol is seeking withnesses to the accident, which occurred shortly after 9 a.m. Anyone witnessing the mishap may contact the highway patrol at its Redwood City headquarters on Veterans Boulevard near the north city limits.

Pacificans Arrested

A California couple was arrested in an Indiana town on Monday and charged with illegally possessing 32 sticks of dynamite.

Police said James Whitacre, of Pacifica, 19, and his wife, Patricia, 15, gave no reason for having the explosives.

D.C. Council Meet Canceled

The study session of the Daly City Council, usually held on alternate Monday nights, was called off last night due to lack of a quorum of councilmen.

Breath Tests Offer in SSF Tomorrow

Public breathing tests and chest X-rays will be offered through Wednesday, July 19, in three North County locations by the Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association of San Mateo County.

The Christmas Seal agency's mobile unit has the following schedule — with operational hours from noon to 2 p.m. and 3 to 6 p.m.

Today at Brisbane Midtown Market, 249 Visitacion Avenue.

Tomorrow at Columbo's Liquor Store, 507 Linden Avenue, South San Francisco.

No advance appointment is needed; anyone 18 years of age or older is eligible.

The check-up is designed to give early warning of emphysema, lung cancer, TB and enlarged heart. To help cover the costs, a $1 service fee is requested for the X-ray and a $2 service fee for the breathing test.

Gunmen Rob Restaurant

Two men brandishing revolvers last week held up the New Southern Restaurant at 975 El Camino Real, South San Francisco, escaping with an undetermined amount of cash.

Police said the men entered through a back door. One held two kitchen employes at gunpoint, placing a tablecloth over their heads.

The other, police said, confronted bartender George Frugoli and owner Reno Donati, instructing Donati to open a safe.

Police described one robber as about 5-feet-10, husky, wearing a stocking mask and a beige jacket. The other was described as 6-feet, wearing a white shirt, and khaki pants.

New organic hair remover

Hair's off in minutes, stays off for weeks.

Leaves skin beautifully smooth, free from hair . . . without shaving, waxing, using messy creams or foams or resorting to electrolysis.

There is now a new way to remove unwanted hair completely from face, arms, thighs, legs, wherever — and keep it off longer. You use a gentle, odorless organic compound, called Delila, and the results are simply sensational.

Delila actually lifts out the whole hair from the follicle . . . leaves your skin beautifully smooth and free from hair for weeks.

The iittle extra time Delila may take at first won't matter once you find that you can really forget about hair removal . . . yes, for weeks.

There are no blunt ends. No prickly stubble, no nicks or cuts. And there's no quick grow back. When hair eventually does come in, it seems sparser and baby soft.

Delila ™ Natural Organic Hair Remover. Ideal for teenagers, too. $5.95 at our cosmetic counters.

New Leisure Programs Added in Westborough

Several new interesting programs are being added to the leisure activities calendar this summer by the South San Francisco Recreation Division.

Daytime programs for boys and girls in judo, guitar, puppetry and an arts and crafts enrichment class will be conducted in the Westborough-West Park area for South San Francisco and other north county city residents. Non-residents pay one dollar extra for fee classes.

Boys and girls, 8 to 16 years, can sign up for six weeks of beginning judo to be held on Wednesdays, 1 to 3 p.m. at Westborough Junior High School. South San Francisco resident fee is $6 with non-residents paying $7. A judo GI is required.

Beginning guitar for boys and girls 9 to 18 years will be conducted at Foxridge School on Tuesdays and Thursdays. 9 to 12 years old are held from 1 to 2 p.m. and 13 to 18 years from 2:10 to 3:10 p.m. Resident fees are $5 and non-residents $6. A music stand and music book will be required.

An arts and crafts enrichment class working with macrame, candles, basket weaving, clay and other media will be conducted on Mondays from 10:30 to 12:30 p.m. for six weeks. The program will be held at Foxridge School under the direction of Phil Devine. Resident fees are $6 and non-residents $7.

Puppetry will be conducted on Wednesdays at Foxridge School for six weeks. Boys and girls 8 to 10 years can participate from 10 to 11:30 a.m. and 11 to 13 years from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. Paper bag, sack, clay and other hand puppets will be made. Resident fee is $4.50 and non-resident $5.50 for 8 to 10 year olds, $6, residents and $7, non-residents for 11 to 13 year olds.

Further information can be obtained by calling the Recreation Division at 588-6200, Ext. 50.

Millbrae Parents Sue Over Teeners' Death

Two suits seeking $500,000 damages each have been filed in Superior Court on behalf of parents of two of the teen-agers killed July 4 in an auto crash on Cabrillo Highway in Half Moon Bay.

Plaintiffs in the suits, filed by attorney Daniel J. Modena, are Mr. and Mrs. George Flinn of Millbrae, and Mr. and Mrs. William Williams of San Bruno. The Flinns' daughter, Darleen, 16, and the Williams' son, Benjamin, 18, were two of the three teen-agers killed in the crash, which resulted in injuries to six other persons.

Named defendants in the suits are Barry F. Welch, 19, of Millbrae, identified as driver of the car which struck the vehicle in which the victims were riding; Welch's father, Joseph Welch, and San Bruno Investment Realty Company, purported owner of the car driven by the Welch youth.

Pacifica Kids Turn to Booze

Alcohol is replacing drugs on school campuses, two administrators told Pacifica Laguna Salada School, District trustees last Thursday.

Roy Carver, coordinator of the district's drug abuse education program, and Pacific Heights School Principal Ronald Lewis noted that alcohol use has become more prevalent for those in the seventh through 12th grades.

Carver said that in the past year there has been "significant increases" in the use of alcoholic beverages.

According to Lewis, there was a drug problem three years ago at Pacific Heights School, mainly with barbiturates and oral amphetamines.

He said the district's drug education program was given "full force" to the students, and as a result, in the past two years a movement has been noticed of the drug problem going off campus.

Lewis gave several reasons for this fact. He said teachers are more knowledgeable about drugs, and how to detect its usage.

"You can get the tone from students' conversations that there is a shift of emphasis from talking about drugs to talking about alcohol," said Lewis.

He said that probably the main reason there has been a reduction of drug activity is because the youths are starting to see the results of what has happened to friends who three years ago started using drugs.

"It's scaring them," said Lewis. "It's a self evaluation, and they're thinking twice (bout drugs)."

Lewis also said there have been complaints as a result of emphasizing a strong drug abuse education program.

Enrollment Gain Told in JC District

Summer session enrollments at the three colleges of San Mateo Junior College District are up 8.4 per cent over last year's figure, a preliminary registrar's report showed today.

Day and evening classes which opened in late June have attracted a total of 9,205 students.

Skyline College in San Bruno claimed the biggest rate of gain, 19 per cent, to a current level of 2,324 students. Both Canada College in Redwood City and College of San Mateo reported five per cent increases, to 2,199 and 4,682 students, respectively.

Blame Fire In Millbrae On Popcorn

An overheated pan of popcorn last week turned into a $600 disaster for the Robert Lewis family at 1026 Helen Drive, Millbrae.

Their 11-year-old daughter had started the popcorn warming in the kitchen at 10:30 a.m., then went into the living room to watch television, firemen were told.

When the girl returned to the kitchen, she found the room in flames and ran next door for help.

Mrs. Tillie Diaz called the fire department, then returned to the Lewis home.

She was throwing baking soda on the flames, as she had learned in the Girl Scouts, when the firemen arrived.

State Expected To Release Pact

The State Division of Highways some time this week is expected to relese its hold on the contract South San Francisco councilmen let June 19 for installation of three intersection traffic signals.

Reason for the hold-up, according to a Division of Highways spokesman, was that with the reorganization of city government and elimination of the engineering department no one was certified to handle federal contracts.

Certification, the making sure that those handling contracts are familiar with federal procedure, was termed a "technicality." The federal government does certify upon recommendation of the state, and state officials have recommended VTN for certification, said the spokesman.

One of the three intersections being held up is Junipero Serra Boulevard at King Drive, which came under fire several times as an accident prone area.

Petitions were circulated late last year to urge the installation of traffic signals at that intersection after a fatal accident. Several accidents followed that one.

The other two intersections are Victory at South Spruce avenues and San Mateo at South Linden avenues.

Arc Electric Company was awarded the contract on a low bid of $92,259.25. The engineer's estimate was $102,952.

Bob St. Clair Heads Bay Area Pollution Unit

San Mateo County Supervisor Robert St. Clair of Millbrae, will take over as chairman of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control district it was decided in a unanimous vote of the district Board of Directors last week.

He succeeds Robert W. Hoyer of Contra Costa County.

St. Clair who has been serving as board secretary during the past year, was first appointed to the Air Pollution Board in 1967 following the late Supervisor T. Louis Chess.

A resident of Millbrae near San Francisco International Airport, St. Clair has pressed hard for meaningful Federal legislation requiring conversion of newer models of aircraft to lessen pollution and noise impact on neighboring Peninsula communities.

He is currently representing San Mateo County on another major regional agency, the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Coast GOP Unit Meets Thursday

Coastside California Republican Assembly unit's July general meeting will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. at Oceana High School in Pacifica.

Supervisoral candidate William Royer will hold an informal round table discussion. Robert Wood, chairman of the San Mateo County Republican Central Committee and Hilda Rooth, volunteer chairman will discuss the importance and functions of volunteers in the national election year. The public is invited.

Saturday volunteers and deputy voter registrars covered the precincts below Pacifica through the Half Moon Bay area seeking unregistered Republicans.

Coastside CRA Vice President Mrs. Hazel F. Campbell of Pacifica attended the statewide California Republican Assembly Board of Directors meeting in San Diego in June. Mrs. Campbell was assigned to the Membership and Youth Committees.

S.S.F. Police Disperse 200

Malicious mischief and some sporadic fighting shattered the warm night air in South San Francisco last week as an estimated 150 to 200 youths gathered at Orange Memorial Park.

About a dozen South San Francisco police responded to the park at 11 p.m. to disperse the youths. No arrests were made. But police said they confiscated clubs, knives, chains and various other weapons.

According to police three cars had all windows smashed. A fourth car had its windshield and rear windows smashed, antenna broken and right door window broke. No estimates were made of the damages.

There was no apparent reason for the melee, police said. They finally were able to disperse the crowd by 1 a.m.

Many Rec Programs For Westborough

New interesting programs are being added to the leisure activities calendar this summer by the South San Francisco Recreation Division.

Daytime programs for boys and girls in judo, guitar, puppetry and an arts and crafts enrichment class will be conducted in the Westborough - West Park area for South San Francisco and other North County City residents.

Boys and girls, 8 to 16 years, can sign up for six weeks of beginning judo to be held on Wednesdays, 1 to 3 p.m. at Westborough Junior High School. South San Francisco resident fee is $6 with nonresidents paying $7. A Judo Gi is required.

Beginning guitar for boys and girls 9 to 18 years will be conducted at Foxridge School on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Nine to 12 years old are held from 1 to 2 p.m. and 13 to 18 years from 2:10 to 3:10 p.m. Resident fees are $5 and nonresidents $6. A music stand and music book will be required.

An Arts and Crafts Enrichment class working with macrame, candles, basket weaving, clay and other media will be conducted on Mondays from 10:30 to 12:30 p.m. for six weeks. The program will be held at Foxridge School under direction of Phil Devine. Resident fees are $6 and nonresidents $7.

Puppetry will be conducted on Wednesdays at Foxridge School for six weeks. Boys and girls 8 to 10 years can participate from 10 to 11:30 a.m. and 11 to 13 years from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m.

Further information can be obtained by calling the Recreation Division at 588-6200, Ext.

Girl Scouts Add Worker For Schools

A new community position has been recently announced by the Daly City Girl Scout Association — that of local school liaison.

"The liaison is the person who helps the troop adults in each school, who serves as a resource help and sees that girls are placed in troops — she provides for troop orgranization and reogranization," according to Mrs. Ruth Metzger, staff representative.

Ladies filling this position in various Daly City schools includes Mmes. Norma Young, Denise Schwarzbach, Kath Galvin, Rosemary Kruger, Donna Barnes, Kathy Foley, Jean Caloretti, Pat Stelling, Shirley Ting, Shirley Figone, Ginny McGowan, Bev Fernandez, Varbara Medina, Carol Klatt, Joyce Cortese and Robert Willms.

A few schools have opening for this volunteer Girl Scout position. These include Vista Grande, Woodrow Wilson, Jefferson Elementary, JFK, M. Pauline Brown, Gen Franklin and Holly Angels. Anyone interested may contact Mrs. Metzger at 467-3330.

Concert to Be Held at Temple Arts Center

The third program in the summer concert series sponsored by the Temple Arts Center will be presented at 5 p.m. Sunday at Temple Methodist Church, 19th Avenue and Junipero Serra Building.

Appearing on the program will be Nancy Loder, soprano, and Barbara Bogatin, cello. Gene Brekhaus is the accompanist on the piano. They will perform Vivaldi's Motetto for Soprano, Piano and Continuo; Four Dance Movements from Suite 3 in C Major for Violon-Cello and Piano; and songs by Divertimento in D Major for Cello and Piano; and congs by Poulenc and William Walton.

A schoarship student at the Juilliard School, Barbara Bogatin was formerly principal cellist and soloist with the California Youth Symphony and a recent participant in the Spoleto Festival of Two Worlds.

Nancy Loder is well-known in Marin county as a teacher of piano and voice.

Each program in the series is presented at 5 p.m. and is followed by a buffet supper which costs $1.50 for adults and $1 for children. The concert on July 30 will feature the Baroque Arts Quartet.

Reunion for Old S.F. State

Anyone from the Thirties up to 1950 who attended the institution then called "San Francisco State College, (now — California State University, San Francisco) is being sought by a Reunion Committee planning its October 14 celebration.

SSF Population Shows Increase

South San Francisco's population has increased since 1970 from 46,706 to 47,600 as of July 1.

The population increase verified by the State Department of Finance, means that South San Francisco can look for an additional $15,000 in annual subventions, officials say.

Nell Norton

Good morning, good cooks.

Here we are in the middle of July. I suppose many of you are either going or just returning from a vacation trip. I hope you had, or will have, a fun time; the kids good, the car running well and the money stretched through the vacation and a little further.

A good money stretcher for the stay-at-homers is this entree, canned salmon, rice and cheese stuffed green peppers.

SALMON PEPPERS

3 large green peppers or 4 medium sized peppers
1 can salmon
1 cup American cheese, cubed
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup cooked rice
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon dried minced onion
¼ teaspoon salt
1 can tomato sauce, 8 oz.

Cut the three peppers in half lengthwise. Cook in boiling water for two minutes. Drain.

Drain the canned salmon and break into small pieces. Combine with the one cup cheese, half teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, one cup cooked rice, one egg, one teaspoon minced onion, fourth teaspoon salt.

Heap the salmon-rice mixture into the peppers. Place in baking dish and pour the eight ounces tomato sauce over all. Bake in 350-degree oven 30 minutes. Serves 6.

A delicious dessert to go with this meal, or any meal for that matter, is this easy to make apple cake.

RAW APPLE CAKE

2 cups peeled and chopped apples
1 beaten egg
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup oil
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup chopped nuts
½ cup raisins

In large mixing bowl combine the two cups chopped apples, one beaten egg, half cup each brown and white sugars, fourth cup oil, one teaspoon vanilla and half cup each nuts and raisins. Mix well and sift in the following:

1 cup flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking powder

Blend in the one cup flour, one teaspoon cinnamon and half teaspoon each salt and baking powder. Pour into well greased and lightly floured 8x8-inch pan. Bake in 350-degree oven for one hour or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool and sift powdered sugar over top.

Last but by no means least, a recipe for sweet and sour cabbage. It's a recipe I've had for years. I made some recently and determined to share it with you good cooks.

SWEET AND SOUR CABBAGE

1 large head red cabbage
1 large onion, minched
1 unpeeled apple, cored and chunked
¼ cup cider vinegar
¼ cup red wine
¼ cup red wine
¼ cup brown sugar
1 Tablespoon butter
1 Tablespoon bacon fat
½ teaspoon caraway seed
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 bay leaf
10 whole allspice in bag

Chop the red cabbage and add the one large minced onion, apple, fourth cup each vinegar and wine, fourth cup sugar, one tablespoon each butter and bacon fat and the seasonings; half teaspoon caraway seed, one teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, one bay leaf and the 10 whole allspice in a bag. Place in large saucepan, bring to boil, lower heat and cook for one hour or until cabbage is tender. Thicken with flour if necessary.

Note: I put the allspice in a piece of cheesecloth and tied it with a string. It was easy to fish out when the dish was cooked.

New officers and a new meeting site were announced recently by the publicity chairman of the Westlake Senior Citizens, Mrs. Frank Specht.

After years and years of gathering each Wednesday in the social hall of the Westlake Community Baptist Church the club will move down Elmwood Drive a few feet and hold meetings in the auditorium of the Our Lady of Mercy Parish school. The meeting place will change with the coming of August and the first gathering in the new locale will be on August 2.

The social hall, which has been a second home for many seniors, has been rented by the Westlake Montessori school which will be opening in the fall, Mrs. Specht reports. The officers of the club feel extremely fortunate to have been able to secure a new meeting spot in the same general area and thereby working as little inconvenience as possible for the members, Mrs. Specht added.

Emil Arnold was the installing officer during the ceremonies investing the 1972-73 officers. With a special, humorous quip suited to each person, Arnold conducted the rites with fine style and humor, Mrs. Specht said.

Being installed for a second term as president was Mrs. Helen Harbuck. Others accepting posts for the second time were Mrs. Myra Barr, vice president; Mrs. Alma Klotz, second vice president, and treasurer Mrs. Eva Stoddard. Assuming office for the first time was Mrs. Elyn Williams, the new secretary.

PACIFICA, and especially the Pacifica Federated Women, paid a fondly tearful farewell to Federated Women's Club president Mrs. Harold Meyers during a luncheon in her honor, according to Mrs. Ann Roberts.

PACIFICA, and especially the Pacifica Federated Women, paid a fondly tearful farewell to Federated Women's Club president Mrs. Harold Meyers during a luncheon in her honor, according to Mrs. Ann Roberts.

Pacifica's Mayor Grace McCarthy joined the gathering at the Rodeway Inn in South San Francisco to add her good wishes to those being extended to the very civic minded Mrs. Meyers.

In addition to friends, civic leaders, and club members, the luncheon was attended by members of the executive board including Mrs. Ernest Hoff, vice president; Mrs. Kent Whitney, auditor, and Mrs. George Milts, the secretary.

Friends Outside is calling for volunteers to help staff a child care center at the San Bruno Jail.

According to South San Francisco's Mrs. Rudy Enberg, the organization is recruiting volunteer adults and mature teenagers to form teams to care for children whose mothers are visiting men being held in the jail.

At present there are often young children left alone in cars, babies with pacifiers or bottles bundled on the back seats of totally unattended cars and older children racing about the hills without supervision on visiting days. To help correct this potentially dangerous situation the Friends Outside have promised jail officials that the organization will set up, maintain and staff a regular child care center every Saturday and Sunday afternoon from noon until 4 p.m.

Persons interested in offering assistance are asked to call 661-6900. There will be orientation sessions regarding Friends Outside philosophy, jail regulations, code of dress and behavior.

In addition to volunteer workers the program is in need of funds to provide camperships for youngsters who need a good summer camp experience. It takes $50 to take a child who is socially and morally handicapped by having a father in prison off the streets and providing 3 hearty healthy meals a day and fun for a week in the Santa Cruz mountains. According to Bill G. Willms, chairman of the Board of Directors of Friends Outside, contributions in any amount will be a great help.

SOMETIMES IT is the things that are right in our own area that we fail to notice or don't take the time to explore! With that primus in mind, the executive board of the Fifty Plus club is planning a sightseeing trip to San Francisco for the fisrt part of August.

Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan reports that the trip will include stops at Fort Point, lunch at the officers club at the Presidio, a stop at Grace Cathedral to view the windows and the great doors, and a coffee break in the Tower Room of the Fairmont Hotel.

Mrs. Calhan emphasized that the agenda is not yet completed and other interesting spots will be added to the list of things to be seen during the full day of exploring the City by the Golden Gate. There is no estimate of the cost for the trip but Mrs. Calhan indicated that the only expense involved will be the cost of a bus and driver.

Mrs. Elizabeth Funderburg is the lady in charge of reservations, as usual, and a call to her will assure you space on the bus.

Pacifica Rec Slates Hikes, Pow-Wows

The Pacifica Parks, Beaches and Recreation Dept. will be conducting a Portola Discovery Site Hike for all boys and girls between the ages of 6 and 13 today, July 19.

For all those who follow the steps of Don Gaspar de Portola to the top of Sweeny Ridge, thus rediscovering San Francisco Bay will receive an official Discover's Certificate.

Bus transportation from each Community Center will transport all these would-be discovers to the end of Fassler Avenue from where the hour walk to the top of Sweeny Ridge will originate. Permission slips and 50 cents must be turned in to your local Recreation Leader no later than Tuesday, July 18.

In celebration of the Canadian Wilderness Week, tribes are forming at all Community Centers in Pacifica to prepare for the gathering July 21, at Terra Nova for the overnight Pow Wow beginning at 6:30 p.m. Friday, and continuing until 8 a.m. Saturday at which time the tribes will break camp.

There will be prizes awarded for tribal skits, spirit, teepee and totem judging plus much more. Permission slips may be picked up from your local Community Center.

Action in D.C. Recreation Softball

In "A" Division action of Daly City's Adult Softball League, Rasmussen's R iders gunned down the Hotshotters 14-2 to remain the only undefeated team in the A Division.

The Westlake Lounge stayed close on the Raiders' trail with a 19 to 1 laugher over USE. Lonnie Shaddox toiled magnificently for the Radicals and Tom Shaddox contributed some timely hits that led to the victory. The Truckin 10 rode over the Misfits 19 to 3 to keep their playoff hopes alive.

J and J Plumbing and the Round Table Pizza head into week five of the B League West both with 4-0 records. The Plumbers uncorked some booming hits against the French AC Reds to defeat the Reds 13 1.

The Round Table Pizza edged by Longs Drug by a score of 6-3 as Larry Gotelli drove in four runs with two homeruns.

Dave Voss aided the Pizzamen with some fine base running. Hector Gonzalez put al ittle spark in PGE as the Gas and Electric boys slipped past the Ronch Inn by a score of 5-4.

The victory was PGE's second win and put them in contention for a playoff spot. The PG&E attack was led by Allen Chu and Tom Gigliotti who both went 2 for 3.

John Byrns pitched a great game for PG&E.

Gorgeous Hunk Of Teacher

A 6-foot-5 hunk of gorgeous Shakespearean voice stood up to greet me over a luncheon table last week and I'd never have taken him for a teacher at San Fernando Valley State College if he hadn't told me.

It was too easy to assume he is the villain in "Blacula," soon to be released by American International Pictures, Inc. (which he is), especially after reading the press release describing him with "cape flying, eyes glaring and fangs protruding," despite his quiet manner, handsome physique and deep resonant voice. So imposing a figure would have to have a dominating role.

William Marshall talks like a man of honor, of commitment and of logic. He wouldn't have taken on such a role if he didn't believe in it and feel it was important to his career. Yet he isn't so naive as to not recognize the exploitative value of such a film.

A veteran of many years of legitimate stagework including years in Ireland and England with touring repertory companies and on Broadway and in Connecticut with the lead role in "Othello," the native of Indiana who began his career as a chorus singer in "Carmen Jones," is a man of many talents.

"I took the role with the consideration I'd be able to write some scenes. I made the same request when they offered me 'Soul Soldier' and 'Cool Breeze' but they turned me down. So I refused to take the films.

"There are black people in the film, which is not meant to be a spoof of Dracula but a serious film meant to entertain, but it isn't a black picture.

"Talent has not been a profound prerequisite for working in films but acting is my business. After my exploitation as a black actor, I'll be in the arena to do better things. Instead of inserting black people into films, they may someday consider doing a serious study of black history."

Marshall has written a play and a television special on ethnic history as well as teaching black arts, black theater and seminars on black heritage between shaping a distinguished career on the legitimate stage.

Asked if his height has helped or hindered him, he replied:

"Both. Producers used to say, 'If you were white we really could do something with you.' Every black actor up to now has had a hard time. They never knew what to do with us.

"Sidney Poitier and I were together with the American Negro Theater and no one has used him right yet. He's a talented comedian and mime but he's been the same man in every film for the past 20 years.

"Last time I saw him we talked about it and he was glad to be reminded because he was happy then. Now he's a multi-millionaire and perhaps happy in another way.

"Black actors haven't had it too much easier on Broadway than in films although off-Broadway in the past few years have given them some opportunity. It's because the risks are not so great and the plays deal with controversial themes."

Local Students Win Regents Scholarships

Regents Scholarships have been awarded to 329 students who plan to enter the University of California in the fall quarter, 1972, Pres. Charles J. Hitch announced last week.

Recipients of Regents Scholarships, one of the highest honors awarded at the University, are selected on the basis of demonstrated academic excellence and exceptional promise. The award may be honorary or it may include a stipend based on a student's financial need.

Scholarships went to:

Daly City: Janet Claire Benton, 1260 Edgeworth Ave., to Riverside; David Charles Klonoff, 20 Fernwood Ave., to San Francisco; Susan Lynn Leventhal, 178 Terrace Ave., to Santa Cruz; Margine Anne Sako, 251 Wyandotte Ave., to Davis.

Millbrae: Thomas James Torok, 510 Taylor Boulevard, to Berkeley.

Youth Activity Set in Pacifica

J-Teen are dropping-in at Pedro Valley and Oddstad schools in Pacifica on Monday nights.

The Texas Bar-B-Q held on June 30 was a big success. Two bands, Cuevas and Dogs Breath donated their time.

The J-Teen Jubilee will be on Channel 8 this Saturday from 4:30 to 6 p.m.

Teens will be having Co-Rec at the Beach this Tuesday night 6-9 p.m. If you want to make a sand candle, bring 25 cents. There will be a bon fire and folk singing. Regular Co-Rec will be at Oceana on Wednesday.

Second YWCA Swimming Session Is Announced

The North San Mateo County YWCA announces that the second 4-week swimming session starts on Aug. 7. Registrations are now being accepted.

Enrollment for this program is limited. Classes have been scheduled for niy tots, teens and adults respectively and in adition there will be a recreational plunge for all swimmers. The program will be held at a heated pool located in Daly City.

In the Daly City-Stonestown-Lake Merced area the trimnastics class is still accepting registrations.

This class is held one to three times a week on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, 9:30 to 10:30 a.m.

Still open for enrollment is the Polynesian Dancing class which is held in the Daly City-South San Francisco area. Classes have been scheduled on Mondays from 7:45 to 8:30 p.m. for adult beginners and on Tuesdays from 7 to 8 p.m. for adult advanced students.

For students under 15 years classes have been scheduled on Mondays, 7 to 7:45 p.m. or Saturdays, 10 to 10:45 a.m.

There are only very few vacant places in the Widget World Nursery Program which is open to children from 2 years, 9 months to school age. During the summer program the children play and learn in a controlled atmosphere under the supervision of experienced teachers and parents. Through the use of paint, paste, clay, blocks, toys, music, dance, stories, water and costumes, children learn to use their bodies, cope with feelings and communicate with other children and adults. Parents are inbited to participate in the summer program but it will not be required.

For more information, contact the office at 375 South Mayfair, Daly City, 94015.

D.C. Trip to Lake Anza Set

The Daly City Recreation Department is sponsoring an excursion to Lake Anza for children 7 years of age and older.

Local playgrounds will be going on the trip July 25, 26 or 27. Prices for the trip at $1.25 (7-12 years of age), $1.50 13 years and older) and include transportation, admission and insurance fee.

Lake Anza is located in the Berkeley hills and offers many activities for the children who attend. A sandy beach, a large lawn area for ball playing, snack bar, roped area for swimming and a roped area for wading await the arrival of the groups from Daly City.

Approximate return time from the trip will be 4 p.m.

Democratic Club to Meet

The Daly City-Colma Democratic Club meets tonight.

The meeting will be held at the M. Pauline Brown School in Daly City.

Guest speaker will be Herb Rhodes, candidate for the position of Supervisor. The meeting will begin at 8. The public is invited.

DC Farm League Into Final Weeks

The Daly City Boys Farm League heads into the final weeks of play with the three league titles still on the line.

The PAL Roadrunners are running away with the Eastern Farm League, but the battle for second place remains a real dog fight. The PAL Dodgers, the PAL Serramonte Tigers, the PAL Serramonte Slammers, and the PAL Serramonte Superstars all have four and five wins and are all battling for second place.

In last week's action the PAL Roadrunners raced past AAA by a score of 19-11, as the homerun bats of Craigh Mitchell and Nick Vlahos did in AAA. Vlahos powered two homeruns, while Mitchell added one to the Roadrunners' cause. The PAL Serramonte Superstars remained in the battle for second place by clawing the PAL Serramonte Tigers by a score of 11-7. Tony Dawson's big stick and Ray Baron's fielding was all the Superstars needed in their victory.

The Hunts Giants are holding on to their lead in the Western Farm League over the LBYA Bobcats as both teams head into the final week of play. In the last week's action, the Bobcats moved to within 1½ games of Hunts by defeating the LBYA Wildcats by a score of 26-21. The homerun and hitting of Michael Bross, Randall Hayes and Mike Firpo led the Bobcats to victory.

In the Midwestern League the AAA Cubs won a pair of games over 2 PAL Serramonte teams.

The Cubs caught the Roadrunners 23-5 and then they squashed the Spiders 20-8. In the first game, it was the hitting of Rick Oroquita and Phil Rodriguez who each collected 3 hits a piece. Marc Santoro played great defense for the winners. The PAL Roadrunners had some outstancing plays on defense most notably those of Martelle and O'Shea who made numerous saves of bad throws at first base.

In the Spiders game, Steve Gianni went 4 for 6 and Marty Smith, Steve McVeigh and Marc Santoto each collected 3 hits for the Cubs. Steven McVeigh set up a great double play when he caught a fly and doubled the runner off of third base with an excellent throw. The Spiders spun a web of defense between second and short with the gloves of McDermot and Foley that was impenetrable.

Tell Summer Nuptials

Rose Marie Dimech, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dimech of San Bruno, receptly became the bride of Massimo Fonda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Fonda of San Francisco.

The couple exchanged vows at St. Pauls Church in San Francisco and greeted guests after the service at the Sons of Italy Hall in that city. The newlyweds are now living in Daly City after honeymooning in the Hawaiian Islands.

When Rose Marie said her vows, she was dressed in a satin gown detailed with lace. Pam Delbridge, her honor attendant, wore a purple satin and lace gown and pink satin and lace costumes were worn by the other attendants who included Ann Sanchez, and Mrs. David Lobao, Ann Sanchez and Pauline and Grace Dimech, sisters of the bride, and Angela Fonda, Massimo's sister.

Aldo Fonda stood with his brother as best man and Fluvio Fonda, another brother, seated guests with David Lobao, Dan McKenna, Herman Hernandez, and Paul Dimech Jr., Rose Marie's brother.

Geraldi-Pimentel

Redwood City is the first address for John Perry Pimentel and his bride, the former Linda Geraldi, who were married at St. Roberts Church and received felicitations at the El Rancho Motel in Millbrae.

Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Geraldi of San Bruno. She has one brother, Tony Geraldi, and three sisters, Anna Marie, Renee and Paula Mary Geraldi, who served as the maid of honor.

The new matron was graduated from Capuchino High School and her husband is an alumnus of Balboa High School.

Money Saving Visit To Lake Tahoe Area

A money-saving way to visit Lake Tahoe is by making arrangements through Park Avenue Tours, with four offices to serve you. Regardless of whether you're taking a bus or driving your own car, Park Avenue Tours enables you to receive a variety of refunds. Overnight guests are assured of excellent accommodations at reasonable rates, and bonuses are rewarding if you're headed for Nevada and interested in saving money, contact one of the well qualified Park Avenue Tours offices . . . Taste tip: Filet of Sole Miguel, as prepared by chefs of distinction at A. Sabella's, fisherman's Wharf. This delightful dish, which is stuffed with spinach Florentine and topped with a delicate white cheese sauce, is a great favorite with those who frequent this superb tourist attraction . . . Chuck Simmers, an 18-year veteran under the Stickney restaurant banner, has taken over the chef's duties at Stickney's in San Mateo. Chuck has been well schooled in the "Stickney manner of production" by owner Adrian Stickney, and his culinary know-how speaks for itself.

EXCITING SINGER — Talented Robin Wilson is showcased in the Garden Bar at the Miyako Hotel, through August 3. Robin performs in three shows nightly, except Sunday and Monday, from 9:30 p.m. No cover, no minimum.

Nick's "Flagship" Restaurant

The original Nick's, at Rockaway Beach in Pacifica, is the "flagship" of the restaurant empire, owned and operated by genial Nick Gust. Nick's, one of the most frequented restaurants on the coastside for many years, now shares that distinction with The Moonraker and The Papagayo Room (both dining spots are located just across the street and situated along the shoreline). Whether you choose breakfast, lunch or dinner at Nick's, an exquisite meal of Continental cuisine at The Moonraker, or authentic Mexican food at the Papagayo Room, you will agree with this Scribe that the chefs in all three restaurants wear their high hats with pride. An extra bonus at Nick's is dancing to the Steven Romano Combo nightly, Wednesday through Sunday . . . Raves aplenty on the prime rib and steaks served at Scotty Campbell's. Reason enough is the fact that all red meat served at this award-winnind Redwood City restaurant comes under the heading of "Prime beef." Service is never rushed. If your evening is devoted to epicurean dining and relaxed conversation, this is a leisurely atmosphere with an impressive surrounding. If, on the other hand, you are concerned about being on time for a sports event or curtain time at Circle Star Theater, service is smoothly timed to insure your prompt arrival.

Famous Chef For The Fisherman

When the spectacular The Fisherman seafood restaurant opens August 11 on the waterfront in Burlingame, the chef will be one of America's ranking seafood and Italian specialty chefs. He is Salvatore Patane. Born in Sicily, he apprenticed with some of the Continent's finest chefs. He worked at top restaurants of North Beach and Fisherman's Wharf and studied under the legendary Lucien Heyraud of the Palace Hotel. He and brothers Joe and Mello originated Marconi's. Later, he became head chef at Paoli's for 18 years. He won culinary awards and became a local celebrity through TV appearances on the "Chef Cardini Show." He comes to The Fisherman after 10 years as chief chef at one of Fisherman's Wharf's most distinguished restaurants. He is father of Richard S. Patane, who will be general manager. Alfredo Scardina will be partner-maitre d' . . . Lu Hurley, who reports Bay Area traffic from his "Hurley Bird" helicopter for KSFO radio, is a frequent diner at the Shirt Tail in Palo Alto. Another familiar face here, says Manager Durby Adkins, is 49er star John Brodie. . . .

Exposition Fish Grotto Is Mecca

With summer and travel months here, hundreds of thousands of tourists are finding their way to the Bay Area. World renowned Fisherman's Wharf is high on their agenda. That's where the Exposition Fish Grotto steps right in to other dining out plans. Summer dishes, specially concocted by award-winning Chef Art Davis, are daily menu features both during the luncheon and dinner hours — topping off the perfect day on the Wharf . . . Next time you sink your molars into one of the small, medium or large pizzas served at Romano's Italian restaurant, Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, bear in mind that all that cheese, salami, pepperoni, anchovies, onions, olives, etc., was prepared under the expert supervision of Enrico Romano, the owner-proprietor who is famed throughout the Bay Area for his Italian dinners and pizzas. He uses nothing but the best of ingredients, and it shows in the way in which people flood his restaurant, ordering pizzas either to go or eat on the premises . . . Doros, which has been named as a top restaurant in San Francisco by Holiday Magazine for the past 10 years, will resume their lunch and dinner service on Monday after their annual two weeks vacation.

SCREENINGS

Bob Foster

Ken Berry is a very talented young man. He can dance, he sings pretty well and, of course, he is quite a talented comedy actor. He has had several successful comedy-drama series including "Mayberry RFD" and it was sort of hoped that his musical review, "WOW," for the next five weeks might prove to be another Berry success.

Things will have to look up a lot during the next four weeks if the series is to become something that the ABC network might consider for next season.

"WOW" was full of blackouts, and the producers, Allan Blye and Chris Beard, who created the series came up with several good musical sketches which hinted that we might be going to have a nice musical evening. However, when comedy was attempted it didn't really come off, even with the help of Don Knotts. Maybe things will look up next week.

THE TELEVISION SERIES "Perry Mason" produced by former actress Gail Patrick Jackson has to be the most successful television program in the history of the medium.

Last month in Universal City I ran into Raymond Burr. He had just escaped a large crowd of fans and was catching his breath. "I just heard today," he said, "that there is a possibility that 'Perry Mason' may be revived."

This week the news was confirmed. "Perry Mason" will be revived for network television by Paisano Productions.

The new series will be in color and will have a guaranteed run. "The old series will be kept on the air as long as the public wants to see it," Mrs. Jackson told a reporter in Hollywood last week. "The original 'Perry Mason' series has realized $50,000,000 so far in network and syndication. It is still running and may go another $10,000,000 before it is finally retired," Mrs. Jackson commented.

No decision has been made on the naming of a cast for the series. Only Raymond Burr and Barbara Hale of the original cast are still alive. Mrs. Jackson explained that the new series would have an all new format.

"WAR AND PEACE," the famous novel by Leo Tolstoy which has been produced by several film firms through the years, will be seen on television this season when the Russian version, which runs well over 8 hours, will be seen on ABC television.

ABC already has Edward Anhaat doing an editing job on the film so that it can be fit into five evenings.

SANDY DUNCAN, with her hair almost completely grown in, is getting ready to go into production. According to word from Hollywood the show has been held up because the producers are having trouble finding people who will sign a five year contract.

Miss Duncan recently commented that last year's "Funny Face" series was a burden for her. "I was always under pressure being pulled here, pulled there," she said. "This year it is different. I'm relaxed, the scripts are ready and polished, and I'm really anxious to get into production."

LOOK FOR MORE REVIVALS of "dead" television shows. In addition to "Perry Mason" mentioned earlier, word from Hollywood has it that producers are looking for somebody to play the part of "Honey West."

Anne Francis originally starred in the series and the producers are looking for somebody like Miss Francis who is about 28 years old, a natural honey blonde and "athletic."

PETE SCOTT who has been the program director of KSFO for some time now returned to the air this week. Pete is taking over the 10 to 12 slot on the station while Dan Sorkin who has been filling that spot moves to the six to eight spot.

The new lineup reads like this. Jim Lange from 6 to 10 a.m., Pete Scott at 10, Carter B. Smith from 12 noon to three o'clock and Terry McGovern from 3 to 5:30 p.m. Dan Sorkin will take over the six to eight spot followed by Gene Nelson at eight.

SM Attorney Gets Post on State Group

Robert Hutchison, a San Mateo attorney, has been named co-chairman, along with Charles Zetterberg of Claremont, of the California Trial Lawyers Association Environmental Committee.

"Our environmental committee is one of the most important committees within our organization," stated Herbert Hafif, association president. "It has played a major role in the protection of the environment by the introduction of 'class action' as a tool for preserving the environment."

Hutchison has chaired two major environmental conferences in Northern California which have brought together representatives of the medical, educational and legal professions to study environmental issues. Additionally, he has written and lectured extensively on environmental subjects.

Zetterberg is presently plaintiff and co-counsel in an environmental suit which would compel the California State Department of Health to participate more fully in the implementation of anit-pollution programs.

Although both men are under 30, their broad experience in environmental protection matters influenced their selection to head the statewide committee of 45 prominent attorneys, said Hafif.

$5,000 for Foster City

A $5,000 traffic safety grant was today approved for Foster City as part of Governor Ronald Reagan's Comprehensive Traffic Safety Program.

It is the second time the city has received financial assistance from the program.

In approving the grant, State Director of Traffic Safety William F. Scheuermann, Jr. stated that "as a recently incorporated city, Foster City has no municipal traffic ordinances and this situation seriously limits the scope of law enforcement services provided for the community. Development and implementation of such ordinances will provide the legal framework for the city's traffic safety program."

The project, directed by Foster City Chief of Police John J. Norton, will include:

—identification of needs for traffic ordinances in specific enforcement areas

—developing research sources from which to construct a basic code

—drafting traffic ordinances for City Council adoption; and

—evaluating effects of the adopted ordinances on the city's traffic safety program.

As part of the statewide program to reduce deaths, injuries and property damage resulting from traffic accidents, the Foster City project has been made possible through the efforts of the State Office of Traffic Safety and the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

FINAL ASSEMBLY, packaging and sales team consists of Terry Simonetti, Gail Thomas, Rick Davis and Rich Fern.

FRANCIS GADAYAN at the disc sander slightly bevels edges and sands future letter holder smooth.

CRAIG THAYER at bandsaw cuts circle for base.

Students' Own Industry

Students in the Serramonte Industrial Arts Department are busy mass producing attractive desk top letter holders in an assemblyline operation that Henry Ford himself would envy. It takes only one minute and 32 second from start to finish to turn out the product — a feat the famed auto manufacturer could never duplicate.

LOADING UP for a return flight to Chicago, TWA's newest aircraft, this Lockheed "L-1011," was introduced to regular service yesterday without fanfare or even prior announcement. The 210-passenger plane went into service on a regularly scheduled flight, just after midnight, and made two round-trips on its first day. Comparable in size to the Douglas DC-10 and wide-bodied like the Boeing 747, the big tri-jet is powered by the Rolls Royce engines built in England for Lockheed after the U.S. government arranged a loan of $250,000,000. It is also said to be the quietest jet in the air. (Post Photo)

The Public Voice

Editor, The Post

After a number of months of promises by the Democratic leaders, it might be a good idea to see what, in fact, they are doing in Congress. The word "reform" is a catch word that the average voter is made to believe is something good. But, the proposed property tax "reform" proposed by the Democratic leadership is certainly not good news to homeowners.

With the support of the leading Democratic presidential candidates, Congressman Wilbur Mills has proposed the termination of the deductibility of personal interest and state and local taxes from your Federal Income Taxes.

This would most definitely raise the income tax paid by the average homeowner, but he will discover much too late what the Democrats mean by tax reform.

RICHARD E. GENO
South San Francisco

Editor, The Post:

It appears that the Democratic leaders are going to doublecross the people this year in the field of tax reform. From the leading Democratic presidential candidates, we have heard that they are anxious to help middle income taxpayers and small businessmen. These are words that are appreciated by most, and no doubt attract votes.

Meanwhile, in Congress, where it counts, it is quite another story. Representative Wilbur D. Mills (Democrat-Arkansas) introduced a bill recently repealing 54 tax "Loopholes."

Among these bills is a measure that would drastically effect homeowners; it eliminates the deductibility of interest payments, local property taxes, and interest on local bonds. To the average homeowner, this means he is losing a deduction of $3,000 to $4,000 per year.

The biggest single loophole closed is not directed at big businesses and corporations, but is directed at small businesses. It eliminates the lower tax rate on the first $25,000 of corporations, but a very significant effect on the small businessmen making $10,000 to $40,000 per year.

It seems to me that it is about time that we consider the actions these men are taking rather than their rhetoric.

LINDA CORDODOR,
Millbrae.

Editor, The Post:

I am deeply concerned with the Tax Reform Bill Representative Mills (Democrat-Arkansas) and Senator Mansfield (Democrat-Montana) have introduced into Congress.

It appears as if Congressman Mills and Senator Mansfield are trying to put the kiss of death on all small businesses by eliminating the lower tax rate on the first $25,000 of earnings. This would hurt the small businessman drastically while having virtually no effect on the corporate giants.

Also included in the bill are measures to eliminate all deductions for charitable contributions, personal interest, plus eliminating the deduction for state and local taxes (pay taxes on taxes now?)!

I fail to see how the elimination of these deductions is going to greatly increase the large corporations' taxes and decrease the taxes of the middle income wage earner.

Here's How I Feel Jane

I DON'T LIKE TO go international. but so many folks have asked me what I think of Ms. Jane Fonda being in Hanoi and broadcasting propaganda to our guys that I feel compelled to offer something. First, I personally feel Hanoi is a good place for Ms. Fonda and her ilk. Secondly, they (the guvmint) is still hounding Tokyo Rose for one thing or another. And the fact that Ms. Tokyo Rose was an American and sentenced to a prison term for her broadcasts during WW II sets a precedent — doesn't it? That's how I feel.

THE MEDIA SEEMS to take great delight in pointing up the handful of GI's that scurry into churches or Canada to avoid being sent hither and yon. Latest is about ten sailors off the Coral Sea. Nothing at all was said about the more than 3,500 other fellows aboard the carrier who did their job.

FRIEND DENVER DICKERSON ventures presidential Democratic standardbearer George McGovern "might do it this year." Denver points out that most folks don't vote FOR a person, they vote AGAINST him. What this all means is that President Nixon (who we predict will retain Spiro Agnew as his VP) has stepped on too many toes and will be beaten. Wanna bet, Denver?

THAT PLEASANT WALK we wrote about three weeks ago — the one that starts at the end of Wilshire Court in Daly City and oftens ends in tragedy — belongs to Daly City. Captain David Hansen, super-sleuth that he is, found out this fact. The council authorized the building of the walkway between Daly City and San Francisco in 1965. The State Division of Highways built it.

It was understood Daly City would maintain the walk. Some baddies of late have accosted women on the path and dragged them into the nearby brush where they have robbed them and subjected them to a fate worse than death. D.C. will now build a fence between the path and the brush where, it is hoped, nice folks like us can walk out of harms way.

TALK ABOUT FLAGWAVERS — Got a letter (I do get a couple once in a while) from A. Sereni (THE A. Sereni) that had no less than SEVEN American flags pasted on it. Beautiful, but don't tell Ms. Fonda about it or you'll make her list, fella.

NOT BEING AN attorney, because I've never been able to pass the bar (or any bar for that matter), it was with much interest I stumbled into a local pub on Hillside Boulevard the other day. Inside was the most unusual sight these bloodshot eyes have seen in many a year — an electronic dartboard. When news of this infernal machine reaches the ears of Britain's Andy Capp it will be Doomsday Phase Two. The new electronic dart board does it part for safety, I'll say that. Back in the GOD (Good Old Days) this person often took metal dart in hand, drew back and let loose toward the cork board. Usually someone at the bar would end up plucking the missile out of his head.

WATCH FOR A BREAK in the current negotiations between teachers of the JESD and administrators. Factfinders report is about to be turned in. Points of interest under discussion are wages and fringe benefits; class sizes; in-service training for teachers. But remember, Dear Readers, the fact finders are only an advisory body — not binding.

MEANWHILE BACK at the JESD there are rumors galore that the San Mateo County DA will reverse earlier opinions and say it's alright to contract for gardening servicex within the district. That's right, we said REVERSE an earlier opinion — two in fact. First opinion on the gardening contract was issued by Dep. DA James W. Foley on June 11, 1969 at the request of Superintendent Frank Greenwood. Foley recommended the contract be terminated immediately after describing why it was felt to be illegal.

On June 14, 1969, Foley sent Greenwood another letter upholding the June 11 letter and again recommending contract termination. On February 15, 1972, in aother lengthly opinion (this one from Dep. DA Keith Breon) with an opinion that the gardening contract for the JESD was illegal.

TWO WEEKS ago, trustees Edward Tomasello, Al Collett and James Cranna voted the contract be renewed. Trustees Bevery Forrester and Dorothy Adams abstained. Why? "More than anything else we would like the DA to inform us this contract is legal. Once he's done that I will vote for it. I think it's a good contract but I cannot vote for something our legal advisor (the DA) tells me is not legal," was Mrs. Adams' answer. Ditto Forrester. I can only assume that what the DA says doesn't bother the other three(?).

Frankly, we harbor hopes the gardening contract for the 23 schools will be alright. Records we have seen indicate the contractor (Masini Bros.) does a lot of extra work at no cost to Joe Taxpayer, such as fixing sprinklers and planting shrubs free. For our money it's a lot cheaper to keep them around — but we're NOT the DA.

Hetch Hetchy Water Shortage

By FRANK LaPIERRE

A group of men with far-sighted vision planned to construct a pipeline some 200 miles long from the high Sierra mountains to the burgeoning town of San Francisco at the turn of the century — almost 70 years ago.

So great would be the volume of fresh mountain water pouring into the Peninsula that all of the area's water problems would forever be solved.

At least that's the way the group planned it.

"Forever" is a long time

Too long, and the population of the once near-deserted Peninsula has mushroomed beyond planners' expectations. Seventy years ago no one foresaw that the Hetch Hetchy pipelines would not be able to supply the necessary water volume to its users.

Today, the very real threat of a water shortage exists, not only to water users along the length of the pipeline, but to San Francisco and San Mateo County users as well.

San Francisco has first call on water from the Hetch Hetchy system. All others face the possibility of a shutdown.

Only recently have steps been taken to form what may be a separate venture among Peninsula cities to import their own water from the Sierra. Cost of such a modern-day venture would be staggering. However, without water the area faces a crisis.

With water on two sides of it — salt water — and the ability to transform ocean water into fresh water still limited, experts have advised local cities to build a new pipeline to the mountains.

Te Hetch Hetchy system can be considered one of the most ambitious projects of its kind in the world — especially when one considers the machinery available three-quarters of a century ago.

Over its 149-mile course the system depends entirely on gravity flow. It is completely encased except at several regulating reservoirs along the route.

In addition to water, the Hetch Hetchy project provides power and recreational areas.

The latest facility, the Robert C. Kirkwood powerhouse, was completed in 1967 and the Canyon Tunnel was put into operation some seven years ago.

The project history and description of the system prepared by Brown and Caldwell, consulting engineers, in January, 1972, notes:

"Water released from Hetch Hetchy flows through a series of tunnels and pipelines down the slopes of the Sierra, through the foothills, across the San Joaquin Valley, and through the Coast Range Mountains to the Alameda East Portal, the western terminus of the Hetch Hetchy project.

"It then continues via four pipelines, two under and two around San Francisco Bay, with portions diverted through the Crystal Springs bypass tunnel and connecting pipelines to the Northern Peninsula and San Francisco consumption areas. The remainder is discharged to Crystal Springs Reservoir."

The first stage of the massive project carrying water to San Francisco was the Moccasin Powerhouse aqueduct completed in 1934. The powerhouse itself went into operation in 1925. A new Moccasin Powerhouse started operating in 1969.

Once the water leaves th Moccasin Powerhouse it continues through the "foothill tunnel" for some 116 miles to Crystal Springs Reservoir in San Mateo County. Some water facilities enroute divert excess water to the new Don Pedro Dam south of San Jose.

The first of three pipelines crossing the San Joaquin Valley was completed in 1932. Number two pipeline was completed in 1953 and the third valley pipeline opened in 1968. There is room for a fourth pipeline in the water district right-of-way through the valley.

The Brown and Caldwell report also notes that "The safe carrying capacity of (these) pipelines, plus the impounded local runoff, will provide San Francisco Water Department with a sufficient supply of water to meet consumer requirements until approximately 1980."

But the myriad dams, powerhouses, pipelines, diversion aqueducts and natural runoff are not considered enough to cope with increased consumer demands — especially along the pipeline in San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties, other water studies have indicated.

In recent years, rainfall has been less than expected as has the snow depth in the high Sierra, which is the source of Tuolumne River waters. Reservoirs are experiencing a gradual, but steady, drop in water height.

The Raker Act of 1913 allowed the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to conduct studies in conjunction with the system. This followed passage of a $600,000 bond issue by the people of San Francisco in 1909 and a $45 million issue in 1910.

It took six years of negotiations between San Francisco and the Department of Interior to push agreement for the system through.

Countywide, cities fear their water rates will not only become exorbitant in the near future, they may also witness a cutback in service. Even Daly City with its own wells still depends much on San Francisco water.

The North County city is a typical example of what has been happening in many California areas—a surge of building above ground and a steadily declining water table beneath the surface.

No-Fault Insurance

At last someone has written a book about no-fault insurance that the guys and gals behind the wheels of America's automobiles can understand.

Dr. Willis Park Rokes should get a medal for his efforts. The purpose of his book is "to serve the needs of people . . . not to furnish an intensive study of individual proposals, but to present an extensive overview of automobile insurance reform . . . in an easy-to-read reference book on what has become a rather complex and cluttered subject."

On page three Dr. Rokes defines his terms in sentences that lead into a book of 15 chapters arranged in five parts. Carefully he discusses the various no-fault laws and proposals that have been advanced. He points to those that are true no-fault plans and to those that are pseudo no-fault plans. It is important to know the difference, he says, because some plans are mislabeled and many a driver is confused as a result.

IN PART IV Dr. Rokes presents arguments for and against changing to a no-fault insurance plan within the various states of the union.

In cahpter thirteen he points to the issues in the no-fault controversy. He points to the problems that beset legislators and discusses legal-constitutional questions.

He writes, "Whatever system is selected by the American public, reform cannot long be delayed. The stresses are too obvious to be ignored, despite the futile hopes of the reform obstructionists who believe the problem will simply go away if holding-action can be sustained long enough."

FOR ME THE most important part of the book is the appendix. Here the no-fault plans that have been adopted in Massachusetts, Delaware, Florida and Illinois are printed. The plan before California legislature is presented and accompanied by a copy of the bill. A chart showing existing and proposed auto insurance systems is presented. One part of the appendix compares seven nationwide plans.

Dr. Rokes is both an attorney and a professor. "No-fault Insurance" is his second book about insurance. The other, "Human Relations in Handling Insurance Claims," is a well-known text. These books and his numerous articles and columns on insurance subjects makes Dr. Rokes a public benefactor, indeed.

Cookie Caper In El Granada

The big El Granada cookie caper ended Saturday night with a would-be holdup man being short-stopped at the Short Stop Market.

Wayne T. Buttress, 34, told Sheriff's Deputy Larry Hefner he was tending the store about 11:30 a.m., when a young man walked in and asked for a cookie, handing Buttress a dime.

When he stood up after picking the cookie out of the cookie bin, Buttress said, the purchaser was holding a hunting knife, and told him, "I'll take it all."

Buttress grabbed a wooden nightstick he keeps under the counter and swung at the knife-holder's wrist. The man backed off, and Buttress told him:

"It's a standoff, now get the hell out of here."

Buttress informed the deputy that the man hesitated for a moment, then threw the cookie at him and ran out.

Power Passes To McGovern

As the last vote for President was tallied, and as Larry O'Brien brought down his gavel, the essential work of the 1972 Democratic Convention was over, and power, and the potential for much greater power, passed to George McGovern. But did the nomination really come from the people? Did it, instead, rise from a hit and miss process that cannot, within either party, be considered representative or democratic?

The present American nominating practice is a hybrid system made up of primaries, local caucuses, conventions and committee meetings, and the final national convention. Lawyers and technicians are needed to understand the maze through which candidates must run.

In a nation which prides itself on having government of, by, and for the people, this process fails to reflect national will or to provide for its orderly expression. It can fairly be said that we nominate by chance, and that the public, instead of setting the course of human events is manipulated and deprived of its voice.

Consider the influence of primary elections. These are made to appear more representative and important than they really are. Thus New Hampshire, a state whose population about equals that of San Francisco, runs a quadrennial circus that benefits the local economy and generates vast publicity, but, on serious reflection tells the nation little about the condition of its collective judgment.

The present configuration of primaries is flawed in many ways. They are, after all, only regional elections. Seldom is there a full range of candidates, and often large states go by default to one man, and his "victory" is stentoriously announced by the press as significant for one reason or another. Many primaries are idle popularity contests as delegates are separately selected, or those pledged to a candidate are bound to his support only for a ballot or two or not at all.

The most serious defect of primaries is that most of them don't really count, and the voters know they don't count. This results in protest voting or tactical voting of one kind or another. The moaners and groaners among candidates do better in primaries than their true worth because the voters view the process as a means of warning politicians about their fears (against busing and taxes, for example) rather than serious selection of leadership. Republicans in Wisconsin showed their contempt for their own primary this year when they crossed over in large numbers and voted for George Wallace as a Democrat.

Primaries without significance will, as a result of such voting, weigh heavily in favor of "wingers," right or left, as these are the men who have perfected the politics of discontent. Centrists are at a disadvantage in such contests — and, as a result the far left and far right will always look stronger than they really are.

Once the primaries are over and delegate selection is complete, the convention takes on its own life. Here, indeed, is the neck of the bottle through which the nominee must pass. For a brief period 1500 or 3000 delegates are beyond the reach of law or the people.

The raw edge of power shows most clearly when conventions turn to their own rules and qualifications in years of close contests. Last week the test of the California winner take all delegation was such a case.

In 1952 the Eisenhower-Taft contest turned on a rule barring disputed delegates from voting on contested seats until their own credentials had been decided. The course of history was set when the Eisenhower forces won (658-548).

The effort of rules on history cannot be illustrated more clearly than by consideration of the 1844 Democratic Convention which spawned the power of the slavery states within that party. Using a rule that required two - thirds of the delegates to nominate, the southern states blocked Martin Van Buren, and, on the ninth ballot, the convention turned to James K. Polk, the first dark horse. Historians claim that without the imposition of this rule either Van Buren or Henry Clay would have been President.

The only winners under the present system are the media, political technicians, local mail and advertising services, and candidates who rouse the passions of protest. The long term losers are the people and sound and stable government. It is important that America distinguish between the appearance of excitement, interest, involvement, and the true location of power. For under the present way of doing things that power is not with the people — it is with a strange hybrid system that feeds on itself.

BETTER BUSINESS

By LORENE BEASLEY
Better Business Bureau

Puppies, in a shop window whether they are frolicking or sleeping, never fail to attract the attention of animal lovers, young and old.

Many of the window watchers find themselves at home with an animal they had had no previous intentions of buying and too late awaken to the fact that they have not received the AKC papers which had been conspiciously advertised by the pet shop.

How do you go about buying a purebred dog?

"When you buy a dog that is represented as being eligible for registration with the American Kennel Club" an AKC spokesman advises, "you are entitled to receive an AKC application form properly filled out by the seller, which, when completed by you and submitted to the AKC with the proper fee, will enable you to effect the registration of the dog. When the application has been processed, you will receive an AKC registration certificate.

Under AKC rules, any person who sells dogs that are represented as AKC registrable, must maintain records that will make it possible for him to give full identifying information with every dog he delivers, even though AKC papers may not be available. Do not accept a promise of later identification."

According to AKC, if a pet shop owner does not give the registration application forms when he sells a dog he must, according to AKC regulations, give the buyer a signed bill of sale giving the breed, sex, color, markings, names of sire and dam and breeder.

NEVER, under any conditions, accept a dog without this bill of sale. This important information will identify your dog, and must agree with the information on the application you will receive later.

The bill of sale should also provide for refund of purchase price and return of the dog if the pet shop fails to deliver the proper AKC papers.

They Don't Breath Baseball

(This is the second of a two-part column. Last week's column dealt with the possible reasons — on both sides — for top baseball prospects John Racanelli and Kenny Smith opting for college rather than pro ball. Two questions were posed: (1) Why the choice of college over the pros? (2) Why the relative snub from the pros?

(Last week the first question was probed and the answer, very briefly, was that education is more important to kids nowadays than ever before; and that the pros tend to cool off on prospects who seem to eschew the "glamour" of pro baseball in favor of college ball, four years which many pro organizations consider waste of valuable time.)

Racanelli's case pretty well exemplifies the answer to number two. He has two pro no-no's against him. He's not only a scholar, but he's also a football player. College football players have a high injury risk which the pros don't relish.

One scout added, "You know, baseball takes more concentration than football and basketball, and John's isn't going to reach full potential unless and until he concentrates solely on baseball."

Scouts also like their prospects to be hungry to play pro ball. One reason is that they, naturally, want dedicated players. The other reason is that hot dogs are more anxious to sign quicker and for less than the ones who aren't so red-hot, who play it cooler. Racanelli, evidently, must have played it a little too cool.

Or perhaps John's personality just gives off the appearance of "coolness."

He is a quiet, shy guy, and unlike many of today's public relations oriented super-athletes, he never gives a speech where a yes or no will do. Nor does he pop off about his abilities. As a consequence, he says no, he wasn't discouraged that he was drafted ninth (or tenth), because he never really thought he'd go higher (although a Giant representative DID tell us that in his opinion Racanelli definitely seemed disappointed that he didn't go higher), and says that he never was particularly anxious either to sign a contract or go to college, but just to make a decision one way or the other. He was just playing it by ear, he says.

If pressed as to whether he might sign a pro contract later — in other words, try to hype the bonus with a good year or two as a collegian — he says that he hasn't even the faintest notion of what he wants to major in, so how can he even think about whether or not he'll EVER be a pro athlete? All he can concentrate on now, he says, is making it through college. He also has no interest, he says, in the notion of later signing and finishing his educaton in the off season. "Takes too long that way," he notes.

Racanelli disdains the argument that he might ruin a potentially great baseball career with a football injury, with a philosophical answer that must drive scouts up the batting cage: "If you're going to get hurt, you're going to get hurt, no matter what you do."

And although he admits that baseball is his best sport, he retorts, "I like all sports, and they're all my favorite in their season."

This is NOT the kind of talk that scouts like to hear. They want their prospects to bow in the direction of Cooperstown at sundown all year 'round.

The only concrete minus in Racanelli's baseball attitude, according to scouts and other long-time observers we talked to, is his mental toughness on the mound.

No scout will be quoted as saying that teen-age kids should be knocking down other teen-age kids with hard balls traveling perhaps 100 miles an hour, but that's what they mean by mental toughness.

Said one scout, "John was erratic this past year. He was actually throwing better last year. At times this year his fast ball was jumping, at other times it was leveling off. He needs more deception, a lot more schooling, but that stuff is mostly mechanical.

"Frankly, John's biggest problem seems to be that he's too nice a kid, too mild. Too many little kids hit him like they owned him this year because they didn't seem to be afraid of him. He just wasn't mean enough, he just wasn't challening them.

"He's a helluva athlete, a natural, has a major league arm, but to be truthful, none of that will do him any good unless he knocks guys on their a– occasionally."

(Was Racanelli told these things directly by the scouts? Yes, he was, he admits, but answers laconically, that he's not afraid to knock hitters down, that if he were ordered in pro ball to throw at a batter's head, he would — even though he may not particularly enjoy it — and adds, "After all, I'm learning all the time." The implication being that he's never really had to throw at bodies before, but he will if he must.)

Smith has some of the same things going against him that Racanelli does: an apparent desire to go to college (his brother, Pinky, who averaged 18 points a game as a soph for USD last year, is undoubtedly a major influence in that decision), and the lack of a gung-ho spirit for baseball.

At this point in his development, Smith looks on basketball as his best sport, in the sense that it is that sport which has really given him the opportunity for college, and also because it is admittedly his favorite sport. But if he ever becomes a professional athlete, he feels that it is baseball which will get him there. He says simply, "It's my strongest game."

But, unlike Racanelli, Smith admits that should he be offered more money because of a strong showing he hopes to make in summer ball between now and the time basketball starts at USD, he would take the money and finish college in the off-season.

Smith indcates, in fact, that if the Dodgers are willing to go over what his scholarship is worth, it might be enough to sway him.

One local baseball man who knows Smith well, however, said recently that the one thing holding him back in baseball is his unwillingness to work hard at the game. Smith matter-of-factly admits it. "I don't like to practice — except hit."

Westlakers Lose to St. Gabriel's 1-2

In a fast moving soccer game in Daly City the first half saw St. Gabriel on the attack almost constantly.

Despite the valiant play of the Westlakers' backs with Dave Inocencio, Nick Nacchi and Steve Suvaco breaking up many fine moves, St. Gabriel scored twice, once past goalie Chris Willsey who could only deflect a hard shot; later against Jason Bruni who had replaced Chris Willsey, and finally won 2-1.

During the second half, the Westlakers' defense, reinforced by Chrisl Willsey as center back, tried out the opponents and was able to bring the speed of forwards Jim Kennedy and Orlando Romero into play. Orlando Romero finally broke through and scored. Encouraged the Westlakers kept up a fast paced attack, but were called offside several times because the forwards didn't move in unison.

The Westlakers as usual played a very clean game. Their coaches had a difficult time switching players as they used their entire squad of twenty.

All members of the team are enrolled in the Daly City Recreation Department Summer Soccer training program and will demonstrate in future league games that they are contenders all the way.

The Westlaker team featured three families with more than one member on the squad; Jim and Mike Kennedy, aged 9 and 7; Chris and Frank Willsey, aged 8 and 7; Teresa and Paul Abrahamsohn, aged 9 and 8. This proves that soccer can be a family sport.

Free Bowling Lessons in D.C.

The Daly City Recreation Department in conjunction with Swanson's Westlake Bowl is offering free bowling instructions to all boys and girls 8 through 12 years of age.

The program will start August 7 and run through August 25.

Classes will be held twice a week with two seperate sessions offered on Tuesday and Thursday 10 to 11:30 a.m. (six sessions) or Wednesday and Fridays 10 to 11:30 a.m. (six sessions).

Registration forms will be made available at your local playground after July 10. Each class will be limited to 100 students, sign up early! Closing date for all applications will be July 28.

Women's Slow Pitch Loop Ends in D.C.

The Daly City Recreation Department Slo-Pitch Leogue for women is completing its final round of play.

Open Road Recreation Cehicles gained their second win when they defeated Salt and Peppers 15-2. Linda Torres and Pat Scott led the Open Roaders with three hits each at four times at bat. Pitcher Marilyn Schnake held the Salt and Peppers from scoring. Loretta Anderson and Juanita Aranda each scored one run for the Salt and Peppers.

The league-leading Daly City Toyota Tigers scored an easy fifth victory when Daly City Datsun-Volvo failed to field a team.

The last round of play was held Sunday, at Westlake Park, South Diamond.

A fall league will be organized during August. Interested teams should contact the Daly City Recreation Department at 992-5356.

Coast High School Cage League Action

The Troglodytes and Sharks picked up impressive victories, to highlight the second week of action in the Pacifica Park Beach, and Recreation Department sponsored High School Basketball League.

The Troglodytes picked up victory number "1" by whipping the Wild Bunch 60-45. Ross Compton and Andy Hilsen scored 20 and 14 points respectively to lead the Troglodytes offense. Jimmy Paffill paced the Wild Bunch with 13 points.

Jim Ribera scored 38 points, but it was not enough, as the Sharks edged Oceana 64-63. Javier Grandev led the Sharks attack with 20 points. The win put the Sharks in first place.

The Park, Beach, and Recreation Department will begin selling Recreation Swim discount cards.

The Swim Finn Card will be good for 10 swims. The price of the card is Children $3; high school students $4.50; adults $7; and families $12.50.

The Swim Finn Cards may be purchased at City Hall or at Terra Nova Pool during Recreation Swim hours.

Cards are good through Dec. 31. Recreation Swim hours are daily except Wednesday, 1:30 to 4 p.m. Tuesday, 7:30 to 1:30 p.m. and Family Swim is held Thursday, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

D.C. Summer Cage Play In 3rd Week

The Daly City Recreation Department High School Summer Basketball Leagce heads into the third week of play with three teams still undefeated.

The Broncos, Hotshots and Vistades all are moving toward eventual showdowns.

In last week's action the Broncos picked up their second win of the year by besting the Midgets 47-44.

The Broncos trailed by seven to eight points for three quarters, but in the fourth quarter the hot hand of Gregg Georgakas turned the game around and gave the Broncos the victory. Georgakas banged in ten points in the fourth quarter and finished as the games high scorer with 23 points.

Ted Scott, who kept the Broncos close for three quarters with his fine outside shooting, finished the game with 16 points. The Midgets were once again led by their fine center, Terry Mahoney. Mahoney scored 20 points and grabbed numerous rebounds to keep the Midgets in the ball game. Doug Sheehan and Pat McVeigh also played well for the Midgets.

The Vistasades used the 26 point scoring of "Pistol Pete" Dove to knock off the Pacers by a 52-46 score. The Pacer defense held Dove to eight points in the first half as the Pacers took a 23-16 lead to the dressing room. In the third quarter Dove turned the game around as he poured in 11 points to bring the Vistasades from a seven-point deficit to a tie game. Dove then added seven more points in the fourth quarter to give the Vistasades the Victory. Dove poured in 18 points in the second half to completely upset the Pacers defense. Rich Counts kept the Pacers within striking distance of the Vistasades as he scored 20 points. Rick Kushman continued his fine play for the Pacers as he went to the hoop for 13 points.

Stagnaro Is Stopped By 'Snake' Hampton

By GARRY NIVER

It's a common malady which often plagues first-nighters.

In show biz it's called stage fright or opening night jitters. In golf its known as swallowing the olive and in baseball it's referred to simply as choking.

In football when a rookie defensive back suffers stage fright, it is known as a touchdown. But in the often cruel world of fisticuffs it is called a knockout.

Last night at the Circle Star Theatre in San Carlos, 21-year-old Rocco Stagnaro, the best known North Peninsula fighter since the golden Days of South City's Bobby Butcher, suffered a case of the jitters.

The muscular San Bruno battler, who had erected quite a reputation in the amateur ranks, made his pro debut and came away wishing that he had picked some other night.

With a host of vociferous partisans on hand, Rocco blinked up from the canvas deck into the glaring ring lights as referee Rudy Ortega signaled an abrupt halt to festivities. The time was 2:04 of the second round and the winner was Herman (Snake) Hampton.

Hampton put Rocco down with a left hook midway through the stanza and then swarmed to the attack as Rocco lost his composure. A left hook and a hard right put him down for the second time and Ortega called it off.

"I came out nervous," the ired Stagnaro commented after the fight. "I felt tight and I didn't stay on top of him like I was supposed to," he added.

"I guess that I just felt the pressures of making my first appearance as a professional," Rocco admitted.

Manager Bob Waldsmith wasn't sure

"I can't quite put my finger on it," he replied. "Physically, I know that he has it all over the guy. Rocco has never been in better shape.

"But," he added, "mentally there seems to be that confidence of victory lacking. There is some type of mental block and we'll just have to find it and get rid of it," Waldsmith said.

Both Rocco and Waldsmith agreed that the kayo loss wasn't the end of the world.

"I've lost before and come back," Stagnaro pointed out. "And I'll be back again."

Waldsmith said that they were almost sure that they could get Hampton back in the ring with Stagnaro for a rematch.

"And then if Rocco loses the second one, there won't be any excuses," Waldsmith stated.

Meanwhile, promoter Babe Griffin is looking for another opponent for the Koroseta Kid. The muscular Samoan, getting off to a rather slow start, came on strong in the sixth round and battered Amando Vasquez into a non-functioning heap.

"I hope to get either Hill Chambers (Arizona light-heavy champ) or Mike Quarry in the ring with Koroseta," stated Griffin. Koroseta and his camp seemed to prefer the former over the latter.

However, Griffin feels that a Quarry-Koroseta match would sell out the Circle Star arena.

Koroseta was trailing decidedly on the Times' scorecard, when he suddenly exploded to life midway through the sixth round. An overhand right partially closed Vasquez' left eye and signalled the beginning of the end.

END IS HERE — Rocco Stagnaro falls to the canvas. (Post Photo)

Koroseta set upon him like a wounded warrior and battered and chased him into three of the ring's four corners. Finally, Vasquez slowly slumped to the floor under a battery of lefts and rights and he shook his head in submission as referee Elmer Costa tolled the ten count over him. Time of the kayo was 2:52 of the sixth.

The Kid survived a rocky fifth round in which he conveniently lost his mouthpiece to halt further punishment by Vasquez. Both fighters weighed 175½.

"I tried to pace myself and I had trouble breathing," commented the Kid, trying to explain his slow start. "My manager got on me and told me to follow my right with a left hook, and that is what I caught him with," he added.

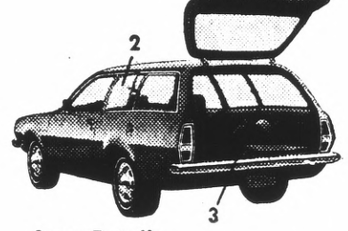
In a six-round semi-wrap-up, Hildo Silva (170) took a unanimous decision from Angelo Bangini (172) of the Argentine. In another six, Agopito Villegas scored a somewhat surprise decision over Sugar Montgomery in a lightweight battle.

In the amateur bouts, Ruben Tapia (122) of San Jose took a clever decision from Lienel Valencia (122) of Redwood City in a spirited fight and San Francisco's Bruce Smith decisioned Ron Lujan in a 136-pound go.

Pinto Wagon: $2265*
We put a lot into it.
You can put a lot in it.

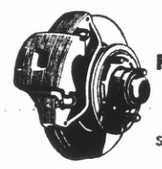
What you can put in: over 60 cubic feet. Put the rear seat down and there's 60.6 cubic feet of carrying space. For comparison: VW Squareback and Vega Kammback both give you a bit over 50 cubic feet.

The basic $2265* model. It's the ideal choice for people who want an economy car that carries more —or a wagon that costs less. The white sidewall tires (shown here) are $28.00

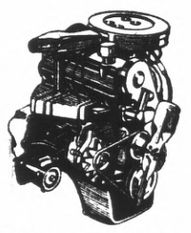


Some Details.
1. The lift gate swings up and out of the way.
2. The rear passenger windows flip open.
3. The spare tire doesn't take up any load room because it has its own well under the floor. And beneath it all, the rear suspension is specially designed for load carrying.

*Sticker Price. Excludes dealer preparation charges, if any, destination charges ($105.00), title, taxes and California emission system ($13.87).



Front Disc Brakes. Standard. And there's precise rack-and-pinion steering, which is normally found only in some of the more expensive sports cars.



2000cc Overhead Cam Engine. It's rugged, economical, peppy—and standard equipment. A 4-speed floor mounted all-synchromesh transmission is also standard.

The Squire Option. That distinctive wood-sided wagon look, plus wheel covers, special trim, and more. No other economy wagon offers anything like it. Price with the Squire Option: $2479.* The luggage rack is $45.53 extra. The white sidewall tires $28.00.

Better idea for safety... buckle up!

Daly City Boy Is U.S. 9-Yr. Old Judo Champ

Eddie Brown of the Daly City Recreation Center Koyukan Judo Club representing the Northern California Judo Assn. became the United States National Junior Judo nine-year-old champion for the year 1972. Eddie competed in the nine-year-old lightweight division and this year that division had 43 contestants. Over 700 contestants from 50 states and Puerto Rico represented their "Yudanshakai" (association) in this year's three-year affair, held last week at the University of Illinois Main Gymnasium.

For his first match Eddie met Wendell Venerable of Chicago and pinned the Chicagoan for a full 30-second and was awarded an "Ippon" (Full Point). In the second round Eddie took about forty-seven seconds to throw his opponent, Brad Bushman, from Texas with a brilliantly executed "Seoi-nage" (should throw). He again was awarded an "Ippon."

Barry Williams of the Mid-Western Judo Assn. was Eddie's third round opponent. This lad lasted exactly one-minute and 15 seconds. In the the fourth round Eddie met William Clark from "Konan" (Great Lakes Judo Association) and threw him cleanly with another "Seoi-nage."

Saturday morning was a little bad for Eddie. He won by unanimous decision in the fifth round from Jorge Lube of Puerto Rico. In the sixth round he lost to a boy from California on a split decision. Mitchell Palacio, his coach at the Daly City Recreation Center himself a five times National Champion and holder of the National Junior Judo Olympic fastest throwing time of 2.47 seconds, conferred with head coach, Don Montero and Ron Tsujimoto. They decided to let Eddie use his "Bread and Butter" technique only. No more minor throwing techniques. All major 'Seio-nage" must be applied with a snap. Because the next three rounds would be the "round robin" series and that would decide everything.

Eddie received a bye in the eighth round and in the ninth round history was in the making for this Daly City lad. Mitchell Palacio had him loosen up on a training mat. — pay loose — play soft judo — don't muscle it. . . . all technique. Eddie had already met Jorge Lube of Puerto Rico and won. Now it was Andrew Swanson of New York. This last match of Eddie's was a thing of beauty. Even John Cannon and Ed Tomasello of the Daly City Recreation Center would have jumped off their seats. Eddie moved his man to his left . . . always left . . . pull left . . move left. Then this lad from New York decided to go to his right and — there was little Eddie waiting.

His favorite throw, his "bread and butter" Seoi-nage took its inevitable toll. 22 seconds of the final round and Eddie Brown, Daly City Recreation Center-Koyukan Jdo Club, becme 1972 National Junior Judo Nine-year-old Champion.

Slo Pitch League Gets Into Swing in DC

The Daly City Recreation Dept. High School Slow Pitch League got into full swing last week with nine teams competing for the league crown.

The league, for the first time, is using regular slow pitch rules and at the present time it is the only high school slow pitch league in the area.

The Swingin' A's jumped into first place after two rounds of play. The A's defeated the Cubs 14-1 and slipped past the Hobos by a 2-1 score. Pitcher Jeff Borghello is becoming a thorn in the side of all the opponents the A's play. Borghello pitched two superb game last week and really has the lob ball pitching nailed down. Borghello was aided by the fine hitting of Ron Cipro, Ira Fern, George Parry, Doug Robbins, and George McLaughlin.

The Colt 45's picked up one win last week to trail the A's by ½ game. The 45's slipped past the Vista Mar Vandals by a score of 5-3. The 45's defense shot down any rallies that the Vandals managed to start.

The Hobbs pulled off a minor upset by edging the Seals 2-1 in nine innings. Gary McLane's bases loaded single with two outs in the bottom of the ninth inning drove in the winning run for the Hobos.

The Regal Selects moved into a tie second place with the Colt 45's by defeating the Old English 800's 9-7. Dave Foppiano, Bob Ferrari and Steve DeNatale drove in the big runs for the Selects.

The 800s' bounced back, after being defeated by the Selects, to defeat the Seals by a 15-9 score. The booming bats of Frank Bristol and Andy Driscoll were too much for the Seals to handle.

The Cubs pulled off the season's first shutout by defeating Thomas Edison by a score of 5-0. Bruce Friedman's ball club looked great defensively as they throttled the Thomas Edison offensive attack.

Motorcycle Jumping Ban

Motorcycle jumping has been banned at the Cow Palace where an attempt was to be made to clear 16 cars.

The board of governors took the action Sunday several hours before "Wild Bill" Barnhart was to try to smash the indoor world mark of 14 autos.

Barnhart suffered minor injuries at the Cow Palace Saturday while trying to jump over 11 cars. His motorcycle hit the top of the ninth vehicle, flew over the tenth and eleventh and landed on a ramp.

He walked away from the crash.

Roundup of Playground Activity

The Daly City Recreation Department is currently operating 26 summer playgrounds throughout the city. Playground hours are 10 a.m.-4 p.m. on Mondays and 10 a.m.-5 p.m. on Tuesdays through Fridays

Varied activities are available on a daily basis. Parents should consult Summer Fun Booklet for complete schedules.

The following playgrounds report action for the first two weeks of operation:

Daniel Webster — Leader: Tom Nuris

Daniel Webster announces its first weekly champions of the summer. The field of competition included ping-pong, carroms and chess. The 13-year-old and over champ in ping-pong was Dave Hirsch who successfully thwarted Ron Spinetti, George Martin, Bob Clancy and Ron Moquin. The 12-year-old championship was captured by Mike Collett who pitted his skills victoriously against the tough competition of Don Ricci, Tony Moquin, Pete Martin, Ken Rodriguez and Dan Clancy. Erik Svenson defeated Bob Zarubin, Rob Martin and Ferrera LaBlanc in the 11-year and under division to secure the championship till next week.

Carroms saw George Martin victorious as this week's champ over Dave Hirsch, Ron Spinetti, Ron Moquin and Bob Clancy. The overall chess champion was Don Ricci, who also won in the 12-year-old division. Among the stiff competition was Bob Clancy who was 13 and over champ. Pete Mike Collett, Ken Rodriguez, Ron Moquin, Erik Svenson, Albert Martin and Rob Martin. All champions must defend their titles next week, so new as well as old participants are encouraged to compete.

F. D. Roosevelt — Leader: Ed Darnell

The playground rivals, the Montebellow Reds played the Clearview Cougars in the second game of their best of seven series, and the Cougars jumped to a 2-0 lead.

The Cougars were led by the spectacular pitching of Dominic Reposar who pitched all nine innings. The Reds, under the pitching of Marty Sands and George Obregon, was also spectacular but gave up two runs in the bottom of the 7th to lose a heartbreaker 11-10. The game was followed by a barbecue which occurs every Friday, 12-2 p.m.

Frankfort Park — Leader: John Relic

A carroms contest was held at Frankfort Park. The contest was open to all children between the ages of 7 and 15. Results: A Division (10-15) 1st, Lamont Hudson; 2nd, Gabriel Cordona; 3rd, Anthony Hale. B Division (7-9) 1st, Michael DeRoach; 2nd Charles Sawyer, 3rd, Jacques Hudson.

Little Jeff — Leader: Pat Vince

Excitement and fun-filled adventures describe the past week's activities at Little Jeff. Thursday was barbecue day which was "hot buns." Thirty-five youngsters participated in the barbecue followed by a neighborhood scavenger hunt. First place was awarded to Leslie and Janice McDonald. Lisa Goodman took claim to the second prize while Gina Garibaldi (despite a broken wrist) and Chris Gumina came in third.

M. P. Brown — Leader: Joe Boboschi

On Friday, July 21, there will be a barbecue at 12:30 p.m. "Bring your choice of food and drinks," says Boboschi. The addition of a ping-pong table has brought out a lot of talent. Sean Clar and Johnny Rodriguez have shown some good moves at the table.

Northridge Park — Leader: Steve Becker

Last week "cast-arm" Don Nelson, Bob Spes, Jim "Jumbo" Martin, Karen Connelly, and others participated in a frisbee-throwing performance enhanced by the powerful winds at our park. Fribees thrown against the wind are caught in an upward draft which lifts them about 75 feet off the ground and sails them out of the park, and then boomerangs back to the thrower. This unusual feat can be thrown by anyone of any age and still travel the same distance!

Strike-out matches were also jumping as the recreation leader and Nicky Do defeated Richard Rogers and Norm "Cash" 5-1 before retiring for a lunch break.

Our Lady of Mercy — Leader: Kathy Curry

There are a variety of activities going on at OLM.

All the ping-pong and carroms pros have been practicing for the upcoming tournament which will be held in August. Among the competitors are Bill Kennedy, Steve Walker, Matt Sullivan, the McNabs, the Diggins and many more. Every Thursday, we have a cook-out and Bill Cremen seems to always get more than his share of the roasted marshmallows!

A softball game is held after the barbecue. On Monday, July 24, OLM and Northridge Park are getting together for a bike hike to Golden Gate Park.

Olympia Park — Leader: Jeff Orlich

Olympia Park is having a carroms tournament. Last week John Robbins showed that he can play, by winning the first tournament held. Other tournaments coming up are the frisbee and ping-pong starting July 10. Other highlights include softball.

Panorama — Leader: Michael Macia

In a baseball game last week, Panorama defeated George Washington Park 8-1. Nelson Rodriguez delivered the big blast with a three-run homer in the fourth inning. Also turning in fine performances were Tony Sebastiani Bill Sandoval, John Sandoval, Dave Lopez, Frank Pacetti, George Sotos, Bob Gradwohl, Ralph Macia, Tony Barnes, and the pitcher Robert Jefferson.

Weekly ping-pong and carroms tournaments will be starting, so be sure to come out and test your skills. A bike race and ten-speed bike trip are also planned.

Vista Grande — Leader: Robert Rossi

In chess, grandmaster Jose Ruiz steadily builds up his game point total in quest of the 1st annual Vista Grande School Chess Championships.

Ron Tomasello Kenny Bates, and Jeff Franco combine to form what many consider to be the finest strike out team Vista Grande has known. Led by the incomparable pitching of Bates, the electrifying speed and fielding in the outfield of Franco, and the unparalleled hitting of Tomasello, these three young men are on their way to an undefeated summer season.

Thanks were given to gourmets Judy Lee and Mildred Weatherbee for making the first barbecue of the summer a big success.

Vista Mar — Leader: Joel Carrara

Last week's activities at Vista Mar School were highlighted by some unusually good weather and a successful barbecue, which will henceforth become a regular event each Wednesday around noon. The odor of sizzling hot dogs and hamburgers were once again a welcome aroma at Vista Mar; the "I Ate the Whole Thing Award" goes to Dave Dovichi, who set a playground record for the consumption of hot dogs by downing five.

The "Butchering Award" goes to Steve Galasini, who let a hot dog stay on the grill so long that many mistook it for a very long briquet. But the big story of the day was Binker Murphy's master chefing; turning a frozen mass of beef, a potentially lethal weapon, into a juicy cheeseburger which might strike fear in the heart of Ronald MacDonald.

Westlake — Leader: Nancy Eichelberger

Poster painting was the special event last week at Westlake School. Lost of colors lots of designs, and lots of hard work created very unique posters. The theme of the posters was chosen by the child. Brenda Silverman chose Daly City's Gateway to the Peninsula. She created an archway from toothpicks and chose Daly City's fog for its surroundings. Karen and Denise Reynolds used sponges for a different effect. They used bright, cheerful colors to express their theme "Happiness."

Kirk Carrillo is "tops" when it comes to carroms. Many times challengers have tried to defeat him but have been unsuccessful.

Westmoor Park — Leader: Lou Quint

Explosive offense and deadly defense marked the Westmoor Broom Hockey League as teams scrambled to keep within reaching distance of the Westmoor Blackhawks.

The powerful Blackhawks took another two-game set over the Bruins and Seals running their record to 7 and 0 as Greg Lipnick continued to supply the fireworks as he slapped through 5 goals in the home stand.

In other action, the Westmoor Rangers coming off a humiliating 10-3 loss to the Bruins tightened their defense and took two games from the Seals and Mapleleafs. Jim Wolform led the way as he scored two goals against the Bruins. The Westmoor Seals took the floor for the first time this year and ran into the Westmoor Mapleleafs and goalie Tony Dekelaita who produced the league's first shut out of the year. The Westmoor Bruins continued their assault on the scoring record as Tim Terry, Ransom Balagot, and Pat McMillias scored 12 goals in 3 games.

Board Lauds Garlington

Trustees of San Mateo Junior College District have unanimously adopted a resolution lauding Philip C. Garlington, founding president of Skyline College, for "great and dedicated leadership."

Garlington is being reassigned, at his own request, to a teaching position in the district beginning next fall. He has been succeeded in the Skyline presidency by Dr. John C. Petersen, formerly a key administrator at Cabrillo College in Aptos.

The resolution notes that Garlington was selected in late 1968 to be president of the district's new San Bruno college "because of his distinugished record as director of instruction at College of San Mateo for 10 years, and previously as a teacher and administrator at other institutions of higher education."

At the time of his appointment, it is pointed out, Skyline "consisted solely of buildings and other campus facilities still under construction — with no students enrolled, no staff employed, no educational programs developed, no community ties established."

Working against the clock to open the college on schedule in September, 1969, the resolution states, Garlington "quickly succeeded in securing the services and the allegiance of outstanding teachers, administrators and other staff members." Together they developed " a comprehensive educational program and strong community support . . . so as to enable Skyline College fully to meet the needs of its students from the outset of operations."

The resolution also praises the founding president for continuing to guide the college forward from that "sound beginning" to the "rare distinction" of attaining full institutional accreditation in the college's second year, and for working "tirelessly" to obtain state funds needed for the campus center building, now under construction.

Garlington asked to return to teaching, according to the resolution, only after having "in a remarkably short period achieved (at Skyline) all he set out to do, and more."

In taking their action, the trustees said they were voicing "deep, abiding appreciation" on behalf of the residents of the Skyline College community in the North County and all the district.

Slates Marine World Trip

The South San Francisco Recreation Division will have a day-long field trip to Marine World in Redwood City on Friday.

Boys and girls, eight to 16 years of age, throughout South San Francisco are eligible to go on the outing. Spaces for the trip will be limited, and it will be on a first come, first served basis.

Detailed informational flyers can be obtained from local Recreation Leaders on various playgrounds and parks. Forms and information as to costs, bus departure times and returns can be obtained by calling the Recreation Division office at 588-6200, extension 50.

Supervision will be provided by Recreation Leaders from the South San Francisco Recreation Division. Pick-up points for the trip will be at Westborough Junior High School, El Rancho School, and Orange Memorial Park.

Further bus trips to other interesting places will be scheduled once per week until the end of summer programs.

Bruno Man Found Guilty

A Superior Court jury has found James J. Ferraris, 33, of San Bruno, guilty of resisting arrest in a case stemming from a scuffle with Highway Patrol officers in Millbrae last February.

He was found not guilty of assault with a deadly weapon on a police officer.

Sentencing was set by Judge Gerald Ragan for August 11 at 9 a.m. in Redwood City.

San Brunan Dies On Golf Course

Hordee L. Hepler, 44, a claims manager of 2920 Chabot Drive, San Bruno was dead on arrival at Peninsula Hospital Saturday after being stricken on the eighteenth hole at Crystal Springs Golf Club.

Helpler's golfing partner, Gary Kadel, of San Carlos, summoned assiatance after Hepler collapsed about 5 p.m. A Hillsborough dire department resuscitator squad administered to Hepler pending arrival of an ambulance.

The coroner's office reported that Hepler had complained of chest pains during the week. He is survived by his wife, Rosemary.

Funeral arrangements are under the direction of N. Gray and Company Chapel, San Francisco.

George White Installed as CRTA Prexy

San Mateo Division of the California Retired Teachers Association installed new officers for a two-year term at a recent meeting in Burlingame.

Mrs. Freda Muller Harding, northern area vice president, acted as installing officer for the following: George V. White, Burlingame, president; Vincent Claypool, San Carlos, and Miss Agnes O'Neil, Burlingame, vice presidents; Mrs. Callie Hansen, Redwood City, secretary; and George H. Callis, also of Redwood City, treasurer.

The division, which has more than 500 members in the county, also presented two scholarships to College of San Mateo graduates. The CRTA Scholarship was given to Ronald Granville of San Carlos. The Mabelle Reinecke Scholarship went to Charles R. Lewis IV of Belmont. Both recipients will be studying law at Bay Area universities. Miss Reinecke, a past president of the division, taught in San Mateo schools for many years prior to her retirement in 1965.

Burlingame C of C Hears Crime Talks

"Thumbs down on crime" will be the subject presented at the Friday membership luncheon meeting of the Burlingame Chamber of Commerce, according to an announcement by Chamber President James E. Delehanty.

"With business executives aware of the impact that crime has today in the operation of both large and small firms, we are pleased" said Mr. Delehanty, "to have two outstanding speakers on this subject."

The luncheon at the Airport Marina Hotel at noon will feature Oscar Pieper, president of the Identicator Corporation, and John McDonald, police chief of Redwood City, as speakers.

Reservations in advance are required by calling the chamber office.

Slow Pitch Tourney Set

Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department will be sponsoring a class "c" SANCRA (Sports Association of Northern California Recreation Agencies) Softball Tournament.

Deadline for tournament entries is noon, July 26. Entry fee for the tournament is $17.50.

For further information regarding the Slow Pitch Tournament, please call Dave Berry, recreation supervisor at 355-4151, ext. 33.

Crying Baby Leads to Drug Arrest

Soaring temperatures, a crying baby locked in a car and a concerned neighbor resulted in the arrest of four persons in Brisbane shortly before noon yesterday.

The strange chain of events that led to the arrest of Theodore Shaddox, 23; Mary Meyers, 19, of 343 Sierra Point Road; Rodney Moore, 20, San Francisco, and Beatrice Leone, 20, of El Cerrito, began about 11:45 a.m.

Officers John Majka and Darrell Terry were called to the Sierra Point Road address when a neighbor complained that an 11-month-old child was locked in a parked car outside the home in sweltering heat.

Although one window of the car had been left open an inch the heat inside the vehicle was choking, the officers said.

Outside temperatures in Brisbane at noon registered 95 degrees — a record.

Both Shaddox and Miss Meyers were arrested on charges of child neglect.

Police allegedly found several plastic bags of marijuana and several dozen pills — suspected of being barbiturates — inside the home, according to reports.

They also found some 100 four-foot high marijuana plants growing in the backyard of the home, officer Terry said.

Police also found a 2½-year-old child inside the home.

Both children were turned over to juvenile authorities in Burlingame pending the outcome of the case.

All were charged with possession and use of dangerous drugs. Miss Meyers was also charged with resisting arrest and assaulting police officers.

San Brunan Is Robbed

A 33-year-old resident of the Parkside School area of San Bruno told police three robbers held him up in his own home Thursday.

They escaped with $55, leaving their victim badly shaken.

He was awakened at about 5 a.m. by loud knocking on his front door. He opened it, and two women, 25 to 30 years old, and a younger man, 18-20, burst in, wrestled him to the floor and pulled off his pajamas.

One woman pulled out a six-inch knife and threatened to mutilate him unless he gave them money.

"I don't care if I kill you," she is quoted as saying. "I have an $80 a day habit and I need money."

The victim pleaded that it was shortly before payday and that he only had $5 in his trouser pocket. This failed to satisfy them. The woman with the knife slapped his face viciously, eaving marks, and repeated her threats as the others searched throughout the house.

They found a bottle of rum, which they all drank.

He finally told where he kept a $50 bill, which he was saving for household expenses.

The robbers left after an hour.

SSF Bank Hit By Firebomb

South San Francisco police are investigating a firebomb attempt made some time Wednesday night at the Bank of America at Lux and Linden avenues.

Police said a Molotov cocktail, made from a pop bottle, a rag and some flammable liquid, failed to ignite when it was thrown through the front glass door of the bank.

The incident was discovered at 7 a.m. today by the bank's janitor, police said.

VTN Submits 1st SSF Bill

VTN Bay Area, Inc., South San Francisco's ersatz city engineer and newly formed Department of Ecological Development, has submitted its first bill totalling $4,805.

The billing is for 141 office hours at $25 an hour ($3,525), 12 hours of evening meetings at $25 an hour ($300) and 49 hours of sewer infiltration study at $20 an hour ($980) for the $4,805 total.

DC Unit Scolds CSEA

The local chapter of the California School Employees' Association has scolded its state organization for suing the Jefferson Elementary School District over a recently approved gardening contract.

Acting president of local chapter No. 233, Geraldine Vickers, took issue with the petition filed by CSEA attorney Richard M. Perry against the awarding of a bid for gardening services within the JESD.

"At no time during this year has the state organization ever mentioned their wish to sue on behalf of this local chapter," Ms. Vickers said. "At no time during this year has the gardening contract ever been stationed to the officials of this local. No communications between the state organization and our local chapter have occurred this year with any reference to the above-mentioned contract."

She said a "large segment of our classified employees" did not favor having the state agency sue in their behalf.

Attorney Perry, in seeking an injunction to halt carrying out any gardening or landscape work at the district's 23 school sites, said the suit was filed on behalf of the district's 1209 classified employees.

The suit also asks that the district hire persons through the classified service to do the gardening work.

SSF Boy Hurt In Bike Fall

A 9-year-old San Francisco boy is in satisfactory condition today at Peninsula Hospital, Burlingame, after sustaining head injuries when thrown from his bicycle to the pavement in South San Francisco at 11:30 a.m. Sunday.

Police said Tod Ramos was riding the bike on Franklin Avenue, a steep grade, and apparently lost control while turning onto Larch Avenue.

Red Cross Teaches 'Survival'

Would your child know what to do in an emergency if you're not home? Could he call the fire department, give first aid for a cut finger, or use cleaning agents and medicine?

The Red Cross in South San Francisco is offering free afternoon classes for two weeks for children from 9 a.m. to noon.

The 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. classes are taught by qualified South San Francisco high school volunteers in several neighborhood areas. Last week a team composed of Linda Hale, Diane Sellers and Cathy CHimenti instructed 15 youngsters at Spruce School.

The curriculum is determined by the Red Cross Youth volunteers, their Red Cross consultant, Miss Linda Schutte, and College of San Mateo student and program coordinator, Ciro Ganoza. The course is called a "Summer Survival Course' and is based on a popular course begun last year in San Francisco's inner city. First aid for shock, burns and fractures is taught along with nutrition, fire and police protection, clothing repairs, and safety with plumbing and stoves.

The cJuly 17-28 course is being taught by Cindy Heubner Clara Munz, Bettylou Knox, Jennifer Wright, Patti Wright, and Gary Espenoza.

The July 31 to August 11 Survival Course will be led by Vorisia Henderson, LaVonne Wimberly, Melody Hutcheson, and Bill Cassidy. Parents may enroll their children in the last two sessions

$9000 IN PLUMBING SCHOLARSHIPS — These three San Mateo County girls are $9,000 richer today as winners of college scholarships given by the Employers' Trust Fund of the Bay Area Plumbing, Heating & Cooling Contractors Association. Left to right: Bonny Pelly, 1052 Monte Verde Drive, Pacifica, a graduate of Terra Nova High School, received $1,000; Helen Warner, 715 Upton Street, Redwood City, Sequoia High School graduate, received $4,000, and April Lorraine Hyde, 789 Niantic Drive, Foster City, received $4,000. One-fourth of the awards are given during each college year. A total of $78,000 in scholarships has been given since the fund was started. Three other students in other communities received $5,000 this year. Making the presentations are at left, Chet Holcomb, business agent for Plumbers' Local 467 of San Mateo County, and Mark Di Duca, president of the Greater Bay Area Plumbing Contractors' Association.

Assembly OK's BART Tax Relief

A bill prohibiting San Mateo County from taxing Bay Area Rapid Transit District BART property within its boundaries has received final legislative approval in the Assembly.

After proponents argued that it was unfair for the county to enjoy a BART facility at the expense of taxpayers in other counties and apply a tax to it, the measure by Senator John Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek, was passed by a 45-15 vote.

Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, D-Burlingame, opposed the proposal on grounds that it was being "rushed" through the legislature.

In closing the debate, Assemblyman Robert Crown, D-Alameda, who earlier argued for the bill, said the three counties in which BART is mainly located are not taxing the property and the $30,000 tax being levied by San Mateo County should be eliminated.

To Fight Hellfire

Mateo Fireman Joins Ministry

By VERA GRAHAM

A 25-year-old San Mateo fireman is giving up his earthly fire-fighting to do battle with hellfire.

He is Hoseman-Engineer Alva G. Archer, affectionately known by the Chief and his fellow firemen as "The Preacher."

Archer joined the department two and a half years ago, and will be trading his fireman's badge for his well-read Bible this Sunday.

How did this all happen? Archer explains:

"I've been thinking about it for a year and a half, not too long ago, we had a special missionary from Taiwan. During his service at the Church of the Nazarene in Redwood City I felt God's call to the ministry. Since then He has shown me in different ways how I should be leading my life."

There's a quiet happiness and confidence about "The Preacher." He knows he's on the right road.

Chief George Cocconi commented:

"Alva's a remarkable young man. We're going to miss him. I always enjoy listening to him, and I've told him we want him to come back when he's ordained and be our preacher on Fire Service Day."

Archer who was graduated from Sequoia High School in 1964, enlisted in the U.S. Air Force after graduation. He will be going back to Colorado Springs in Colorado to attend the Nazarene Bible College. After an intensive three-year course of study, he will receive his AA degree, a Bible certificate and will be ordained into the ministry of the Church of the Nazarene.

And when he goes to Bible College, he will have to take on a part-time job to support his wife, Donna, their son, Christopher, 4, and daughter Cynthia, 14 months.

"People ask me why I would leave a fine job like this one and all my friends here — they are great guys, you know. It was a big decision, I've been real happy working here. All I can tell them is that I am doing God's will, and I want to try to help people find their way in life through God.

"The Church of the Nazarene is a Holiness church, and by that we mean it holds a belief in the doctrine of Christ — in his admonition of Love and belief that people can be cleansed in heart. We believe a man can live a holy life, imitating Christ, and shed himself of his human frailities," Archer says earnestly.

At first, he says, his wife was hesitant. It's a big step for the family.

"But, I prayed, and now she is very much for it, and I think she will make a wonderful pastor's wife," the prospective minister adds.

Archer says:

"I find young people today are scared to death." They're scared to death of everything, of life, of death, of the world. And they are searching more than they ever have before.

"They realize that all the things the politicians, the society, their families, the educational system have offered them just haven't worked. Their parents' lives show it. They feel a sense of failure.

"And when given the opportunity, they look at Christ and see hope, faith, love — something that works for them every day. It meets them where they are. Young people are hungry for God.

"Their parents have tried the psychiatrists' couch, the family counselors, having all kinds of fun and good times, and the kids have been given everything — except what they need."

Kids don't need things, he says, they need to realize that God loves them, and is waiting to help them. They need to learn Christian discipline.

Archer points to the current Democratic Convention and says:

"It shows so clearly how young people are rebelling against that which hasn't worked."

The Church of the Nazarene, according to Archer, is the fastest growing in the U.S. It is attracting many young people. He emphasizes that, regrettably, too many other churches fail to preach and adhere closely to the teaching of the Bible.

"When you try to base something on man's interpretations," he says, "people quickly discover the fallacy of it. The Bible is the Word of God. He inspired men to write it.

"The main focus of the church is on the fact we believe in people. Because God loves you — and every human being — we love each other, too. Our sole purpose is to seek and find people who need help, and through our love and belief in them, guide them toward living the good life. From there on the Holy Spirit directs them . . . He gives them strength from day to day."

As a youngster, Archer admits his mother called him a "rascal." Although she attended the Church of the Nazarene, when Alva grew up, he didn't bother going to church very much.

In the service, he says, he had a gay old time. He drank and smoked and "I thought I was having a great life."

He attended the Church of the Nazarene services at Ent Air Force Base in Colorado Springs a few times, and it started him thinking.

"I began to realize there must be a better way of living," he adds. It's like a light suddenly shines in on you, and you know you've got to take a new direction.

"The Church is like the Jesus movement, only it has been doing this work for more than 60 years."

He further explains the church interprets the meaning of the Bible literally. It believes in the Second Coming of Christ. Judging from the Bible, that time is not too far off, and that's why he wants to help humanity save itself from eternal damnation, the young man emphasizes.

"It will be one world, one church, a commonwealth of nations, living in peace, communicating with God through love and prayer," Archer says with firm conviction.

"Until that day comes, a fundamental faith in God and salvation through Christ is the only answer for this day and age.

"The Days of Miracles are upon us."

'Christ in Passover' Program Set

The First Southern Baptist Church of South San Francisco will feature a special presentation of "Christ in the Passover" on July 23 at 6 p.m.

Rev. Martin Meyer Rosen of the Beth Sar Shalom Hebrew Christian Fellowship will speak and demonstrate how the Jewish Passover Seder relates to Christian communion and the Last Supper as Jesus observed it before His crucifixion.

In this service Mr. Rosen sets the table with the traditional objects and dons the costume as used by the orthodox Jews. He details from the Hebrew heritage exactly what Christ meant when at the Last Supper, Jesus took the Matzoh (Passover bread), and said, "This is My body which is broken for you."

Mr. Rosen is an ordained minister who has served with the Beth Sar Shalom Fellowship since 1956. He and his wife are both Jews who have come to believe that Jesus is the promised Messiah. The ministry of his organization is principally to Jewish people who believe in Christ.

S.F. Man Hurt

A 23-year-old San Francisco man is reported in critical condition today at Mary's Help Hospital, Daly City, after being involved in a four-car collision in Pacifica.

Police said Minor Leong was injured when he attempted to avoid a rear-end collision, and swerved into the path of another vehicle driven by Eldon Henshaw, 37, of Pacifica. Also involved were cars driven by Thomas B. Bazzani, 22, and Donna Baioni, 26, both of Pacifica. A passenger in Henshaw's car, Richard Nunes, received minor injury, police said.

North County Demos Meet

The Daly City-Colma Democratic Club will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the M. Pauline Brown School in Daly City. Guest speaker will be Herbert Rhodes, candidate for the position of county supervisor.

Van Gogh Paintings at Tanforan

Vincent Van Gogh, whose paintings attracted nearly 60,000 visitors to San Francisco's de Young Museum last December, is back for a return engagement, this time in a gallery without walls.

So that the works of the great Dutch painter can be seen by all, Tanforan Park Shopping Center has Van Gogh's paintings on display throughout the Mall.

People's Gallery, the unusual new advertising medium that combines fine art and advertising posters, has meticulously reproduced some 20 Van Gogh masterpieces in poster-size displays.

Van Gogh's early works radiate his vision of a beautiful world, full of sunshine, warmth and color. Later, while confined in a mental asylum, his emotional torment reflected itself in images of a strange and isolated world.

Examples of both of Van Gogh's visions are to be seen in this outstanding exhibit, which spans the master's short but prolific career that ended in 1890. Still lifes, landscapes and portraits are all on view.

They will be at Tanforan through August 12. So accurate are the reproductions that the textures and brushstrokes of his rugged painterly style are all there on the poster to be seen and savored.

ABOVE IS a way to sashay around the waist place with jillions of your most adorable little jangles. A world-of-fun fashion tip from Granat Bros. Jewelers, Tanforan Park. Superchic dangles that do your creative instincts proud. Expressions of yourself that play-up a wide-rimmed suede belt to the hilt of gilt and display your taste for opulent trappings. Go with the romantic, the Renaissance "overall" look of now.

Commemorating the Great Tanforan Racing Days

A STATUE commemorating the great racing days of Seabiscuit is well on the way to being completed. The sculpture will be placed in the court fronting the new Emporium Department Store at Tanforan Park Shopping Center. After months of research The Hapsmith Company, Developers of Tanforan, acquired the services of Gorden Graetz, a world renowned artisan from Florence, Italy. Graetz is now finalizing the statue for shipment to the United States. According to Hap Smith, The "Biscuit" was the biggest money winner to ever run at Tanforan Park Race Track, now site of the regional shopping center. The great thoroughbred champion earned a then record $437,730. An interesting sidelight to the Tanforan statue is the fact that Hapsmith has spent $25,000 in developing the bronze facsimile and Charles Howard originally purchased the live horse for $7,500.
